

Accord General Honors

Preparations For Giving MacArthur Hero Welcome On His Arrival

WASHINGTON, April 14—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) disputed today Democratic contentions that Gen. Douglas MacArthur favors all-out war with Red China.

With the ousted Pacific commander ready to leave Tokyo for a flight home to a hero's welcome and an expected appearance before Congress next week, Taft vigorously defended MacArthur's views that the Far East is the major theater in the world struggle against Communism.

But the Ohio Senator, a possible Republican presidential candidate in 1952, told a reporter this does not mean either MacArthur or he believes the United States should mount an invasion of China with its own troops.

While Taft was talking, Gen. MacArthur sent word to Washington that he "would regard it as a great honor and distinction to address the Congress in general terms."

MacArthur sent the message to Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who had invited him to testify in a closed session of the committee.

MacArthur postponed a decision on that invitation, saying it would be inappropriate to make any other plans until Congress acts on his invitation to address the House and Senate.

Massive Send-Off
The exchange was made public by Russell while a massive send-off was being prepared for MacArthur in Tokyo, and welcome-home ceremonies began to take form in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

Although fired for differing with the President, who said MacArthur's views seemed to point toward a third world war, the general was in line to get almost every honor any returning hero could expect.

The Army was prepared to give him the most ceremonious welcome, including an artillery salute, unless he requested otherwise. At the Pentagon, workmen got busy on refurbishing an office sometimes used by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Army spokesmen, in reply to questions, said MacArthur would be provided an office and living quarters if he asked for them. He rates them as a five-star, permanent general.

Taft, in his outspoken argument, said: "General MacArthur has never advocated—nor have I ever advocated—that American troops be used in an attempt to conquer China."

"All I want—and I am sure the general shares these views—is for the United States to furnish equipment and supplies to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to conduct raids on the mainland."

"I have no idea that the Nationalists could gain any toehold that they could maintain, but if such raids diverted even a few divisions from Korea it would help take the pressure off American forces there."

Senator Kerr (D-Okla) told the Senate last week that "Only MacArthur, of all the generals I know is sufficiently stupid" to want to wage war against China.

Clear Way For Address
As the controversy over MacArthur's replacement by Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway continued unabated, there were these other developments:

1. Administration leaders cleared the way for the general to address an informal joint meeting of Congress in the House chamber, perhaps Thursday or Friday. The houses will vote on such a resolution, with approval apparently certain. President Truman announced it was fitting that such an honor be bestowed on "one of our great military men. However, Mr. Truman is not expected to attend. The MacArthur appearance at the capital may eclipse that given any returning warrior in years. Television and radio arrangements were being made that outstripped those prepared for any similar event.

2. Rep. Richards (D-SC), acting chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, announced he will ask that his committee invite MacArthur to testify before it. Republican members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee pressed for a similar invitation.

3. Republicans brought up their guns to direct a barrage of questions on far eastern policies at Secretary of State Acheson when he appears at a closed door session of the Senate Foreign Relations group Monday on a measure to authorize sending 1,000,000 tons of wheat to India.

4. Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) said at the east central front in Korea that his tour of the Far East has convinced him that "the Russians have about given up their territorial ambitions in Europe for the time being—they are more interested in Asia—and especially Japan—right now."

This runs counter to much of (Please turn to page 6, Column 4)

New Councilmen To Be Seated

The City Council, which has functioned for the past year, will meet for the last time in regular session in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday night.

All unfinished business will be completed, then the four retiring members, Pete Menefee, Walter Smethers, Emory L. Ellsworth and John Vandekamp, will be excused and the four incoming members inducted into office. They are: Harry O. Berry, Nathan Brown, Truman J. McMillin and Clyde A. Swafford.

Mayor Herb E. Studer stated Saturday he does not contemplate bringing up any names for city appointments at this session.

US Artillery Major Dread Of Chinese

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, April 6—(Delayed by censor)—(P)—Recently captured Chinese Red medical records show that 80 to 90 per cent of the enemy hit were victims of artillery.

The "queen of battle" is in the thick of the Korean war and giving a good account. It's a far different story from that in the war's early days.

Brig. Gen. George B. Barth, one of the Army's top artillery men in Korea, puts it this way: "What you must have on the battlefield is power and there are different ways to get it. You can get it with manpower as the Chinese do or you can get it with airplanes, tanks and artillery."

Air Attack Ends Quickly
"The Chinese don't like our planes strafing them but they know this kind of attack will be over in a few seconds. The prisoners we take now say they are most afraid of heavy bombs, napalm, (jelled gasoline, fire bombs) and artillery—and they hate the artillery the most."

General Barth, of 1008 South Fourth St., Leavenworth, Kas., commands all artillery of one U. S. division. He set up one of the biggest bombardments of the war last March 7 when the allies drove the Han River and captured Seoul. He directed 148 guns that fired 5,000 shells in 20 minutes.

This afforded the infantry one of the easiest advances of the war. Seoul fell unopposed.

"The mission of artillery is to get the infantry forward with the least possible casualties," General Barth explained.

Gunfire Breaks Will
"But in a larger sense we also try to break down the enemy's will to resist. Artillery can always reach behind his lines—sometimes very far behind them."

"That is why we pound, pound every day, when we know it seems there are no targets. The Chinese soldier at the front never knows when the guns will search him out. He can never relax."

"He can never lie down and tell himself he is perfectly safe. If he shows his head, as a battalion did the other day, he gets TNT on top of him without warning and he is killed before he can dive into a hole."

"Every time we take now has Chinese bodies on it, men killed by our constant firing."

Early in the war, the allies lacked guns as well as everything else.

"Last summer, we sometimes had to stretch nine batteries—54 guns—over a whole 30-mile front," General Barth recalled.

"Of course, we couldn't get any concentration of fire that way—maybe two or three guns on a single target at most."

Now Things Are Different
"But now things are different. Ordinarily we can mass a whole division's artillery on a front of eight miles or so and we can get at least half the guns or more on one target. This is one of the main reasons we have advanced 70 miles in the last two months."

Every day now, almost as a matter of routine, a U. S. division in Korea fires between $200,000 and $250,000 worth of ammunition. For Red China, swarms of men seem cheaper than gunpowder. To a great industrial nation like the United States, gunpowder is cheaper than blood.

WASHINGTON, April 14—(P)—Cloyd H. Marvin, president of George Washington University, announced today that an alumnus, the late John Owen Rankin, of Hayti, Mo., had left the school Missouri farm lands valued at $200,000 to $250,000.

Rankin, who died April 7, received the master of arts degree from the University in 1912.

Marvin said the farm lands will be left to the University total about 640 acres. Located near Hayti in southeast Missouri, they are about five miles from the Mississippi river.

The university president indicated the land probably will be sold when the Rankin estate is finally settled. The property was left to the University's school of government, he said.

Marvin said Rankin left all his estate except $10,000 to the university.

Anxious To Secure Some Early Fair Catalogues

Missouri State Fair premium catalogues of the years 1901, 1902 and 1907 are desired by W. E. (Billy) Preston, fair secretary. There may be a possibility that some Sedalians have preserved these old catalogues and if so Mr. Preston would like to have them. Communicate with him by telephoning 370 as soon as possible.

Concert As A Tribute To Scott Joplin

Men's Choral Club To Present Plaque Tuesday Night

The presentation of a plaque honoring Scott Joplin will be the highlights of a choral concert given in memory of "rag-time music's foremost pioneer" by the Sedalia Men's choral club at Hubbard high school Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Joplin, composer of the justly-famed "Maple Leaf Rag," was a resident of Sedalia when "rag-time" sprouted from a fad to a nation-wide sensation. Joplin was responsible for this city becoming the center of learning for the followers of this "new music."

In the early 1890's the Queen City concert band, of which Joplin was a leading light, was known throughout this area as the finest. Today only a handful of those who played in that organization still survive. One member, Tom Ireland, of 1001 North Osage and a former Democrat employee, remembers Joplin as a serious man with respect to both music and life.

Today's leading authority on Joplin and his music is Brunson Campbell of Kenice, Calif., who ran away from his Manhattan, Kas., home early in life to study under Joplin. Campbell is regarded as the number one "rag-time" pianist still living, and second only to Joplin among the many who have played this music. He now devotes much time to seeking wider recognition for his teacher.

"King Of Ragtime"
While a resident of Sedalia, "the king of rag-time" studied music at the George R. Smith college where he excelled in composition and harmony. This school, which later burned to the ground, was located near Crown Hill cemetery.

The afore-mentioned "Maple Leaf Rag" regarded by jazz experts as the finest piece of rag-time ever written, was first published at 114 East Fifth by John Stark. From that time Joplin's place in the world of music was secure.

Mrs. Fred M. Ross, outstanding Sedalia pianist, will play two quartets, the "Terrific Four" and "Three Longs and a Short." Jerry Engle will be featured with the latter quartet and will be soloist on the choral number, "Dry Bones."

Z. Lyle Brown, president of the Choral club, will present the plaque to J. B. Hylick, principal of Hubbard school.

The presentation of a lithographed scroll to Joplin's widow, who presently resides in New York City, has been temporarily postponed. This event was originally intended to run in conjunction with the local ceremony.

D. of I. State Circle Meets Here

Sedalia has been chosen to have the 22nd annual meeting of the Missouri State Circle, National Circle, Daughters of Isabella, to be held May 18-19 and 20th. The local Circle No. 310 will be the hostess.

The Bothwell hotel will be headquarters and visitors will register on the mezzanine at the entrance to the Ambassador room Friday evening and Saturday morning. A reception will be held in the Ambassador room Friday, May 18th from 8:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m.

The two day program follows: Saturday May 19th at 8:30 a. m. visitors registration. At 9:00 a. m. the meeting will be called to order in the Ambassador room. A banquet will be held at 7:00 p. m. at the St. Patrick's school hall. Dress for the banquet may be formal or informal.

Sunday May 20th at 8:00 a. m. there will be mass and Holy communion at St. Patrick's church, and a breakfast at 9:30 a. m. at the Bothwell hotel in the Ambassador room.

Mrs. Verna E. Williams clerk at the Selective Service Board 84, has sent out orders to seven men to be inducted April 23.

They are, Charles R. Williams, 1615 East Fourth; Richard D. Weimholt, 103 East 28th; William F. Neal, route 1, Sedalia; Ray E. Linhardt, 646 East 15th; Alfred L. Dove, Green Ridge; Robert E. Bennett, route 2, Nelson and Richard E. Paxton who is of this county but will transfer to Topeka, Kas., for his induction.

Re-solicitation To Meet Red Cross Quota

Bert O. Hathaway, general chairman of the 1951 Red Cross fund campaign states there will be a re-solicitation in some of the districts in Pettis county where the townships have not reached their quotas. At the present time 83.1% of the quota has been raised, and Mr. Hathaway feels that if the quota is to be reached, every individual must be given an opportunity to contribute. The volunteers are working in the residential and business areas; but due to the extreme weather conditions, the work has been slow, so if you have not yet been contacted, you will be in the near future.

To Present Solo

The second outstanding feature of this symphony program will be the appearance of Hugh Williams, violinist, who will present a violin solo as a part of the evening's musical fare. Mr. Williams for the past three years, has given unstintingly of his talent, time and enthusiasm to the Sedalia Symphony, as concertmaster of the local organization.

This will be Mr. Williams' last appearance with the Sedalia Symphony as he is taking a year's sabbatical leave from the Western Missouri State College at Warrensburg, to attend the Eastman Conservatory of Music at Rochester, N. Y. where he will work on his Doctor of Music degree. The orchestral part of the program has been selected by Abe Rosenthal and assistant conductor, Miss Geraldine Teufel and ranges from the classic overture to arrangements of American folk music.

Double Feature For Final Season Concert of Symphony

The Sedalia Symphony orchestra, Abe Rosenthal, conductor will offer a double-feature at the final concert of the season, Monday, April 23, in the auditorium of Smith-Cotton high school. The featured guest artist, will be Robert Lyvon, who is known throughout the light opera world as "Curly" in the musical play, "Oklahoma."

Mr. Lyvon sang this role in "Oklahoma" both in the original cast in New York and abroad. He is a bass-baritone, and has years of experience as a singer of leading roles in Broadway productions.

Grounded At 14,408 Feet

Lt. John Hodgkin, 31, of Selma, Calif., spent the night of April 12 atop Mt. Ranier, after the motor of his Piper Cub failed as he attempted taking off from the mountain top after a landing there the day before. Friday afternoon he succeeded in a hop-off as rescuers were attempting to reach him from the height and 2 below temperatures. (AP Wirephoto)

Glides Down Off Mountain Ernest Bevin Dies At 70;

Air Authorities Peeved At Action Of Lt. Hodgkin

LONGMIRE, Wash., April 14—(P)—The first man to land a plane on the summit of 14,408-foot Mount Ranier flew down safely today to find state authorities threatening disciplinary action.

Lt. John Hodgkin, air force flier from Selma, Calif., whose hobby is mountain landings, said he glided his light private plane from the mountain top without power in an amazing take off yesterday.

He soared glider-fashion, skimming down to a mountain lake at the 5,000-foot level, where he stayed last night. Refueling with air-dropped gasoline, he took off today and landed his ski-equipped plane at the straw-covered Spanaway, Wash., airport where he left Thursday.

Hodgkin said he undertook the stunt to "prove what can be done with a small plane."

"I love flying," he added. "I love the mountains. There was just something inside me that made me do it."

Air Force authorities, and the Mount Ranier National Park Rangers who made a perilous ascent to rescue Hodgkin only to find him gone, were far from enthusiastic.

Order Investigation
Lt. Gen. R. W. Etter, to whose troop carrier unit Hodgkin was assigned, said the air force inspector general had ordered an investigation to see whether the flier should be court-martialed.

Asked if he was under arrest after he landed at Spanaway, Hodgkin replied "I don't know just how to answer that."

Etter declined immediate comment. Air force officials remarked Hodgkin was technically absent without leave since 8 a. m., Friday although he started the stunt flight while off duty.

Hodgkin said he got his plane off the top of Ranier merely by giving it a push, hopping in and soaring into space.

"I went down the slope and just as it went over the edge I caught an updraft and I was flying," the wind-burned and weary flier related.

"I dived trying to start the engine. I dived at least 5,000 feet, losing 4,000 feet a minute, but the engine wouldn't catch."

Hodgkin said the lake landing wasn't difficult but "I could have stayed in the air all day. There was a terrific updraft."

The flier said he was sorry about the men who climbed 15 hours to reach him, insisting "I would be glad to fly back up there to get them. I would be perfectly safe xxx."

The Rangers, smarting with sunburn and indignation, were already on their way down after camping on the mountain all night.

Dog Severely Injures Three-Year-Old Child

ST. LOUIS, April 14—(P)—A fierce stray dog attacked three-year-old Joyce Deswald today, inflicting facial wounds which required 18 stitches.

The tot was accompanying two older sisters who were delivering Girl Scout cookies in the neighborhood.

The child, treated for rabies, was in serious condition. The stitches were taken in her left eye, in a deep cut below her left eye.

Five Injured In Auto Wreck

Donald Harrison, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harrison, 1435 South Carr received a fractured right leg and Jack O'Dell son of Mrs. Lawrence Stephenson, 913 West Tenth, suffered a fractured left shoulder. Friday night about 10 o'clock, when the 1947 Plymouth sedan, driven by Harrison and owned by his father, missed a sharp curve four and one half miles north on the State Fair road, skidded 186 feet and tore through a barbed wire fence.

Also slightly injured were passengers Delbert Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryant, 504 East Third; Bill Burkholder son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burkholder, 1022 West 16th and Bob England son of Mrs. Howard Hooper, 1118 East Tenth, all students at Smith-Cotton high school. Bryant's left shoulder was sprained and all received slight cuts and abrasions. Sgt. W. S. Barton, of the State Highway Patrol, made an investigation. A passing motorist whose name was not obtained saw the accident and called the Ewing Ambulance which took the injured to the Bothwell hospital. They were treated by Dr. A. L. Walter and Dr. D. R. Edwards. Harrison and O'Dell were kept patients in the hospital while the three less injured were dismissed.

Prosecuting Attorney Mike Bogutski filed charges Saturday afternoon in magistrate court against Harrison for careless driving. Harrison will appear before Magistrate W. W. Blain.

Allies Press On Charwon Base Of Reds

ROK Marines In The Seizure Of Ongjin Positions

By Don Huth

TOKYO, Sunday, April 15—(P)—Allied troops under a new field commander crunched forward Saturday in a powerful three-prong advance on the big Chinese Communist base of Charwon inside North Korea against heavy Red resistance.

In the center of the 120-mile broad battle front, other United Nations tank-infantry forces hammered at the gates of Yangcu, eastern anchor of the Communist defenses in this sector.

On the west coast, far behind enemy lines, 200 heavily armed South Korean Marines aided by friendly guerrillas had gained almost complete control of the lightly defended Ongjin peninsula. They seized positions within 17 miles southwest of Chinnampo, Yellow sea port for the Communist capital of Pyongyang.

Some 500 sympathetic civilians were freed, after the Korean Marines landed April 11 on the southern tip of the peninsula under cover of Republic of Korea (ROK) naval bombardments.

There was no indication how long the Marines would remain in the absence of large Red concentrations on the peninsula.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway turned over his Eighth Army command Saturday to Lt. Gen. James Alward Van Fleet, husky 59-year-old veteran of the Normandy beachhead in World War II and the postwar anti-Communist campaign in Greece. The ceremony was quick—three minutes. Leaving for Tokyo to take over Gen. MacArthur's commands, Ridgway removed the grenade which dangled from his paratrooper harness—a feature of his usual battle dress in Korea.

Assures Japanese
On his arrival in Tokyo Saturday night, Ridgway assured the Japanese people he would "work for the completion of the masterly task already largely accomplished under the consummate leadership of General MacArthur."

It was reference to the Japanese peace treaty which Ridgway will handle in addition to his main duties as commander of United Nations command. Earlier Ridgway said he intended to devote most of his attention to prosecution of the Korean war.

General Van Fleet took over the Eighth Army at a critical time. Chinese and North Korean Communists fought desperately to stem the allied offensive north of the 38th parallel long enough to launch a major counter-offensive.

Eighth Army headquarters reported that Red casualties Friday through ground action alone were 4,315 killed or wounded.

This was up to four times the number of daily casualties inflicted on the Reds during the past week. It indicated much heavier resistance was being offered in fighting that was still obscured by censorship.

AP correspondent John Randolph said the allies made slow but steady progress in their drive toward Charwon, 17 miles north of the 38th parallel. The allies now stand before the last mountain barrier to the devastated city. A week of savage fighting was required to approach those heights, Randolph said.

Eighth Army headquarters identified for the first time 180,000 troops previously reported streaming south into Korea from the Manchurian border. The reinforcements were located south of Pyongyang in positions just above the western front.

Youth Overcame Hardship
A poverty-stricken orphan at eight, Bevin went to work at age 14. He never saw the inside of one of Britain's swank public schools. All his scholarships were won in the school of hard knocks.

He had been a farm hand, dishwasher, street car conductor, beer truck driver, and hobo before he embarked on the career of labor organizer.

Long a powerful figure in the labor movement, he was picked by Churchill in the darkest days of 1940 to head the labor ministry.

England Shocked By Sudden Demise Of Key Diplomat

LONDON, April 14—(P)—Ernest Bevin died in his apartment of a heart attack today, a little over a month after giving up his post as Britain's foreign secretary. He was 70.

The tough-spoken former laborer and union boss, who mobilized workers to beat Hitler and as sharply challenged Stalin in the cold war, recently was praised by Winston Churchill as "among the great foreign secretaries of our country."

For almost 11 years, with the exception of a brief period toward the end of the war, he had been in the coalition cabinet of Churchill and the labor government of Prime Minister Attlee. His health finally broke under the strain in 1949.

Duties Decreased Last Month
Increasingly frequent illnesses—suffered from heart trouble, asthma, high blood pressure and piles—kept him from his duties at critical times, and he finally accepted on March 9 the less onerous duties of Lord Privy Seal.

He succeeded at the foreign office by Herbert Morrison.

His death came as a shock to the British. Arthur Deakin, who succeeded him as general secretary of the big transport and general workers union, said he talked with him this morning and "he was in perfectly good spirits."

Bevin became ill suddenly in mid-afternoon, however. A member of his staff at his apartment in Carlton Gardens summoned a physician and Mrs. Bevin, who was out for the afternoon. Bevin died soon after 5 p. m.

Had Music Program
"Western Specialty Numbers" were given as dinner music by Mrs. Nellie Monegan, Mrs. Donald Donath and Miss Mary Frances Burlingame.

Following the dinner five girls of the Smith-Cotton high school sextet sang "Only A Rose" and "Liza". Ruth Ann Wareham and Geneva Cramer sang a special western number, "Lovesick Blues". Other members of the sextet were Misses Marjorie Scruton, Loretta Burton and Carol Kriesler. Miss Sally Jo Dowdy accompanied the singers.

Mr. Drake complimented Miss Hazel Gray and her social committee, composed of Miss Lois Gorden, Mrs. Maimie Dwyer, Jack Delph, Clyde Thompson, Mrs. Irma G. Keyes, W. L. Burlingame, Miss Beulah Harris and Mrs. Robert Hausman.

Presents School Board
Mr. Drake then introduced Dr. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of Sedalia Public Schools who introduced the following members of the school board: Palmer R. Nichols, Frank W. Hayes, Dr. G. H. Abney, A. L. Hawkins and Dr. Floyd L. Lively. The president of the board of education, Herman E. Bloess and Mrs. Bloess were unable to attend.

Mr. Hunt then introduced the following honorary guests: Julian H. Bagby, Mayor and Mrs. Herb E. Studer, the Rev. Father A. J. Brunsvick, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Scruton and Milton Hinlein.

Wage Stabilization Meeting Here Monday
A meeting important to hundreds of employers in the Sedalia area will be held in the assembly room, Pettis county court house at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The subject matter relates to the wage law and wage stabilization techniques under new regulations about which many persons are unfamiliar despite published literature in their hands.

Explanation of these regulations will be made by Duane A. Wendle, assistant regional director, Wage and Hour Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, Kansas City. Many Sedalians remember him as the spokesman at a meeting here a year ago, and considerably helpful at that time over problems of wage-hour interpretations.

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Chet Brown, secretary, and Royal Cowger, General Drivers Union secretary, have arranged for the meeting and speaker. They anticipate a big meeting in the assembly room, and urge that those who come arrive early so the meeting may get under way promptly at 7:30 Monday night.

Hand Grenade Injures Soldier, His Brother

EMMETSBURG, Ia., April 14—(P)—A soldier home on leave and his younger brother were severely injured today when they set off a hand grenade.

The two were Pfc. James Stanley 18, and Dick Stanley, 16, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stanley of Emmetsburg.

The head nurse at the Emmetsburg hospital said the younger boy's eyes were "blown out," and hand was blown off and he suffered a fractured leg.

She said the soldier suffered a badly burned face and body injuries.

Just how the accident happened was not immediately determined. The mother of the two boys said James had brought the grenade home from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., two weeks ago. Since then, she said, he had returned to camp but came home again this week-end.

The two boys went to a sand pit outside Emmetsburg late this afternoon to set off the grenade, Mrs. Stanley said.

Annual Dinner For Teachers

Dr. Collins Gives An Address On "The Frontiers"

"The Frontiers Of Our Country" was the title of an address given by Dr. Earle Collins to 136 members of the Community Teachers Association, members of the Board of Education and guests at the group's annual dinner meeting in the Smith-Cotton high school cafeteria Friday night. Dr. Collins is the new president of the Missouri Valley college at Marshall.

He was introduced by Miss Nellie White.

Dr. Collins, who has traveled widely, explained that the American Frontier was no longer in America, but is now in the Far East, mainly India and other rich countries.

Dr. Collins spoke concisely about other countries of some importance besides India and stressed the significance of having them on the side of the United States in our struggle against the totalitarian powers of the world.

He told of incidents when spies attempted to enclose Egypt and even the United States into the iron curtain. He closed by saying that "we should be thankful we live in a land we know and a land where we will be protected."

Dr. Collins will sail from New York on May 25 to travel in the Near East, Europe and Scotland.

The meeting was called to order by Ernest L. Drake, president of the Community Teachers. The invocation was given by Mrs. Alma Hausman.

He Holds 'Pendulum of Death' in His Teeth

Morituri's Body Stretches 3 1-2 Inches As He Grips Sphere in Which Girl Rides for Circus Act

By Ray Pitt
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—"The Pendulum of Death" is no imaginary torture to the "Great Morituri."
Unlike the make-believe torture of Edgar Allan Poe fame, "The Pendulum of Death" is a body-wracking feat of superhuman strength dreamed up and performed by German-born William Kubik, 36. Kubik is now appearing for the first time in this country in Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus.
Morituri, "the man with the various members married and the act folded.

Early in 1950 the "Pendulum of Death" was born. This time Kubik wanted to make sure that his act stayed with him, and he found a young German girl who was doggedly determined to become a circus performer.
Shy, blond Ilsa Kriechen, 16, now rides the bicycle inside the sphere that hangs from Kubik's teeth.
What happens to a man, Morituri was asked, while he is holding such a tremendous weight?

ON THE GROUND, Morituri—Walter Kubik—and Ilsa Kriechen, the girl inside the sphere, stand beside a miniature motorcycle that will supplant the bicycle she now rides.

iron teeth," hangs by his knees 50 feet above the sawdust ring and holds more than 1000 pounds of swinging weight with his teeth alone. He has devised a unique system for creating the half-ton pull.

Gripped firmly in his teeth, a cable hangs below the iron-nerved German. Attached to the cable is a rigid 700-pound steel-mesh sphere more than nine feet in diameter. Inside this fantastic pendulum, a young woman waits for just the right moment—and then launches herself astride a small bicycle and whirls about the globe while it swings in a wide arc over the audience.

As a boy Kubik dreamed of following in his father's footsteps as a strong man. He never grew to typical strong man proportions, but he developed the ability to lift 100-pound sacks by his teeth before he was 12. He made his first professional appearance as top man on a hand-to-hand balancing team with his father shortly after his 13th birthday.

As he grew older Kubik began working on the spectacular. By the time he was 30, he was widely acclaimed in Europe as an aerialist who served as a living link in a trapeze wire that supported whirling aerialists below.

In 1949 he went back to his phenomenally strong teeth for ideas. He perfected an act in which he held by his teeth alone, a complex trapeze system on which five men performed. But the public never saw it; no sooner had he developed it than the

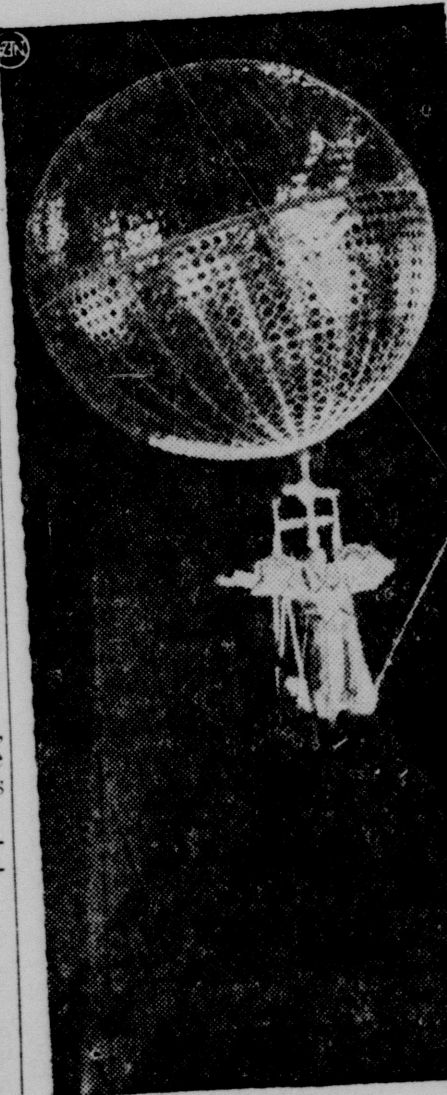

"The weight," he explained through an interpreter, "causes my body to stretch over three and one-half inches. The pull is felt all over the body but is felt most, naturally, on the neck.

"After the weight is released, I am unable to even nod my head for at least a minute. Everything, of course, depends on the girl."

Morituri explained further: "I cannot see the weight below me from my position. So, if she should fall..."

He shrugged. The shrug was to indicate that the jolt of a fall while the globe was spinning would snap Kubik's neck, killing him instantly.

For the past few weeks Ilsa has been practicing something new. "The bicycle is light," Kubik explained. "Very soon now, Ilsa will enter the globe and ride a motorcycle."

"Is the Great Morituri ever afraid?" He was asked.
Again the shrug, and, with a smile that showed strong white teeth, he answered:
"A strong man is never afraid."

Lawrence Pummill Houstonia Mayor

At the recent town election in Houstonia, Lawrence Pummill was elected mayor and Walter Schuler, new street commissioner and Miss Hattie Skillman town clerk.

Artie Nutt, Kenneth (Ted) Marion and Walter Schuler were re-elected to the town board and Lawrence Pummill and Walter Fricke were elected as new members.

The school levy, which was voted on at the school auditorium, carried. John K. Smith was re-elected as a school board member and Murry Wood as a new member of the board of education.

Library Service Is Expanded

Over 700,000 more Missourians now have access to library service than in 1946. The increased interest in the development of library service has promised the Trustees and Citizens Division of the Missouri Library association and the Missouri State Library to sponsor a series of regional conferences for citizens and library trustees.

Members of the committee on Local Arrangements are Dean F. F. Stephens, Columbia, and Mrs. Elza P. Berry, Sedalia.

The Central Missouri conference will be held at the Municipal auditorium in Columbia on April 26. The general session will begin at 9:30 a. m. when Paxton P. Price, state librarian, speaks to the group on the subject "The Improvement of Library Service in Missouri." Following this will be a panel discussion by representatives of the local library boards on the topic "The Trustee's and Citizen's Part in the Improvement of Library Service." During the afternoon session every one present will have an opportunity to participate in group meetings. The purpose of this conference is to provide the citizens, trustees and librarians with an opportunity to discuss the problems concerning library service in Central Missouri and the relation of these problems to state-wide library service. This is the second annual conference of this type to be held in this area.

Seed Exchange For Homemakers

The Dresden Homemakers club will meet Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. at the club house. Mrs. Ernest Fredrick and Mrs. Chester Drake will be hostesses.

The annual seed, bulb and plant exchange will be held. Each member has been asked to bring one bulb, labeled as a gift for the Sedalia Garden club sale to be held April 20. Proceeds from the

Announcements:

Mrs. Henry Menefee has accepted the appointment of co-chairman of Voluntary Services, with Mrs. Harold Dean.

Meetings:

Regional Home Service conclave, Kansas City, April 12. Chapter delegates: Mrs. W. H. Weller, Mrs. Fredonia Kingsbury. Volunteer Services conclave, Red Cross office, April 12. Speaker, Mrs. Margaret Dallmeyer, Jefferson City, field consultant.

Blood:

Miss Amy Van Hoozer, chapter correspondent area office in office this week, for program consultation.

Junior Red Cross

More gift boxes are being shipped from the Red Cross office. Seventeen letters have been received from children in other countries in recognition of the boxes shipped in the fall.

All Have Problems

That all Red Cross chapters have problems was brought out in the regional Home Service meeting in Kansas City last Thursday. We went into this matter with one of the delegates and she was emphatic on this point. If you have ever done any social work, or if you have even a smattering of knowledge about social service work, you will agree that this is important, as it is only in a straightforward discussion of such problems that they may or can be solved. By the way, the case load for our chapter for March, was 160 cases. We may get the mobile blood unit sooner than we thought. Start rolling up your sleeves; it doesn't hurt. Congratulations to our Volunteer Service chairman, Mrs. Harold Dean, for her choice as co-chairman. Mrs. Henry Menefee has a remarkable way of getting work done. Secret, she works herself, other people like to work with her. We will re-locate the first of May, watch this column for further announcement.

Rosie Is No Glamour Girl

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Rosie the Riveter and Winnie the Welder are on their way back. Forty out of every 100 workers being hired by the giant Convair B-36 plant here are women. There are now about 3,000 women among the 28,000 employees, and several hundred more are added each month. All start at $1.07 an hour for the training period.

The women workers are not glamour gals. All jewelry must come off because of moving machinery. Hair must be covered by nets or bandannas. No tight-fitting sweaters are allowed because they interfere with freedom of movement. Finally, the rule is "medium loose-fitting wash slacks, ankle length."

In an Ohio State League game, June 25, 1912, Pitcher Selbach of Lima pitched four innings. He walked 11, hit three batters and made a wild pitch.

SINGAPORE—(AP)—More bombing planes are coming from England to aid the R.A.F. in its attack against Communist terrorists in the dense jungles of Malaya.

The R.A.F. Headquarters here said this means an intensification of the air strikes against terrorist hideouts. More planes of the brig and light bomber type are earmarked for service in Malaya. Delivery flights also will start of Hornet fighter-bombers—Britain's fastest piston-engine aircraft. These are to replace the Tempest fighter-bombers now operating in Malaya, and will carry a bigger punch in the anti-terrorist war.

Where Do You Buy Your Clothes?

It is a compliment to a man's good taste in dress when you ask, "Where do you buy your clothes?"

The best way to make certain you are getting good clothes is to go to a good store—a store where quality and fashion are first.

When a man goes to a merchant who sells only nationally known and advertised merchandise, he knows in advance that he will find a selection of clothes that will appeal to his good taste and to his sense of value and quality. He knows also that he will enjoy the services of experienced, courteous salesmen who are personally interested in helping him make a selection best suited to him.

When you wear clothes from our store, you'll be proud to show the label when your friends ask you. "Where do you buy your clothes?"

Our new Spring stocks are here and we are sure you will be able to find just what you want in fine clothing for the coming season.

Church News

The Bertha Cox circle of the Fifth Street Methodist church met Wednesday evening, April 11th, at the home of Mrs. Bert Hathaway, 717 East 14th. Assistant hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Joe Maunders and Mrs. Ivan Caraway. There were twenty-one members and four guests present.

The meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, it was voted to allow payment of two current bills. Mrs. David Edwards, chairman of the nominating committee, presented her slate and candidates for office during the coming year. The members voted by ballot, and the following were announced as the 1951-52 officers: president, Mrs. Joe Maunders, vice-president, Mrs. Irwin Lehmer, secretary, Mrs. Walter Schmide, and treasurer, Mrs. Bill Deek.

Gifts of small toilet articles were brought by each member, and they are to be sent to the Mother Jewel Home in York, Nebraska.

The worship service, "Be Ye Perfect," was given by Mrs. S. F. Swearingen. The program leader, Mrs. A. L. Brewer, gave an article from the Christian Home magazine, by Miriam Chene, entitled, "They Prescribe Love." Miss Dorothy Pendleton gave the special feature, using as her topic one of the sermons from Dr. Ralph W. Sockman's book, "Now to Live."

The meeting adjourned, and during the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Installation of officers will be held at the May meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. Larry Blatterman.

Circles of the First Methodist church will meet this week as follows:

No. 1, Mrs. George Starkey, chairman, at the home of Mrs. Starkey, 618 North Stewart, on Thursday, April 19th, at 2:00 o'clock, with Mrs. Robert Homan and Mrs. John Buckley assisting.

No. 2, Mrs. W. D. Wilson, chairman, at the home of Mrs. John Harris, 1214 South Osage, Thursday, April 19th, at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. J. L. Curry, Mrs. J. M. Holland, and Mrs. Ray Martin assisting.

No. 4, Mrs. H. L. Judd, chairman, at the home of Mrs. Clay Harned, 910 State Fair Blvd., Tuesday, April 17th at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. E. D. Jamieson and Mrs. W. J. Menefee assisting.

No. 5, Mrs. R. R. Bates, chairman, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Steiner, 1005 South Vermont, Thursday, April 19th at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. J. L. Monsees and Mrs. F. W. Koenig assisting.

No. 3, Mrs. Clayton Mitchell, chairman, and No. 6 Mrs. Paul Mowry, chairman, joint meeting at the church on Tuesday, April 17th, at 1:15 p. m., with Mrs. Chester Long, Mrs. Jack Cunningham, Mrs. G. C. Garrett and Mrs.

Leonard Anderson hostesses. Rev. Carl Opp is to be the guest speaker.

Mrs. W. A. Green's Circle of the Epworth Methodist church, Broadway and Engineer, met April 11 in the home of Mrs. Wilber Garrett, 1415 South Montau, with Mrs. Minnie Nash as assisting hostess.

Sixteen members were present and three visitors, Mrs. S. G. Monsees, Connie Beals and Gary Dyer.

Devotionals were given by Mrs. Maude Burlingame, a continuance of Stewardship the third column, silent prayer for all members who were ill or bereaved and with a closing prayer by Mrs. Elmer Coulter.

It was decided to quilt a quilt given to the circle for a gift to a home for old people. Names were drawn to decide future hostesses.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Mrs. W. A. Green and Mrs. Maude Burlingame will be hostesses for the May meeting.

The Women's Association of the Broadway Presbyterian church will hold its group meetings on Thursday, April 19, at 2 p. m. in the following homes:

Group 1 will meet with Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., 419 Dal-Whi-Mo.

Group 2 will meet with Mrs. W. T. Stephens, 1416 S. Kentucky Ave.

Group 3 will meet with Mrs. B. E. Heacock, 11th and Warren.

Group 4 will meet with Mrs. J. E. Cannaday, 5th and Park.

The Evening Group (group 5) will meet with Mrs. R. A. Waggoner, 1122 West Seventh at 7:30 p. m.

The Wesleyan Service guild of the First Methodist church will hold its regular meeting at the home of Misses Mabel and Emma Kraft, 1104 West Third street, at 7 p. m. Tuesday, with Mrs. H. H. Deal assisting hostess.

A dessert course will precede the business meeting.

The circles of the First Christian church will meet this week as follows:

Circle number one, Mrs. M. O. Stevens, chairman, will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. O. F. Gorrell, 819 South Vermont. Several members of circle seven will present a one act play "The Day of March."

Circle number three, Mrs. J. L. Hilteneburg, chairman, will meet Thursday at 12:30 p. m. at the church for a covered dish luncheon. The hostesses, Mrs. Luther Landis, Mrs. W. L. Lewis, Mrs. John Fowler and Miss Rose Fowler will furnish the dessert and coffee.

The program will be a study of "The Near East" conducted by Mrs. Luther Landis.

Circle number four, Mrs. J. W. Bradley, chairman, will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Paul Read, route 4. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Jolly Hurt, Mrs. Bert Robertson, and Miss Elizabeth Parsons. The program will be a study of the Philippines.

Circle number five, Mrs. H. G. Satterwhite, chairman, will meet Thursday at 2:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Granville Thompson. The program will be a study of "The Near East."

Circle number six, Mrs. J. C. Saunders, chairman, will meet Thursday at 2:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Staubbli, 1001 South Vermont. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. George Lively and Mrs. John Sutherland.

The Spring Rally of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, Sedalia zone, which was held at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Sedalia, April 11th, was attended by about 100 members, visitors and pastors of the Sedalia zone area.

After the registrations, the rally was opened with an inspirational service conducted by the local pastor, Rev. W. F. Strickert at 10:45 a. m. After a short opening business session the assembly adjourned at 12:00 noon for a luncheon which was served by the hostesses the Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's.

The tables were decorated with spring flowers and individual corsages were given as favors to each guest. Predominate colors used were purple and gold, the official colors of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

After the lunch hour the entertaining committee presented a film strip showing the achievements of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, both nationally and in the districts since 1942. The chairman, Mrs. E. J. Thomas called the afternoon meeting to order at 2:00 p. m. at which time she introduced the speaker of the day, Mrs. Paul Streufert of St. Louis, the immediate past president of the league who chose as her topic "Lutheran Women, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." She told of the prominent Lutheran women of the past and present who lived to prove their faith by their love, charity and service.

During the business meeting which followed the Trinity Ladies Aid Society of Mount Hulda applied for membership in the zone making a total of five societies now affiliated with the Sedalia zone. Ladies Aid Society members of Stover, Lincoln and Lake Creek were also present at the rally as visitors.

After accepting the invitation to hold the fall rally at Trinity Lutheran church in Cole Camp the meeting adjourned at 4:00 p. m. with prayer and doxology.

Closing Meeting Of Music Club

The Helen G. Steele Music Club closed an active and successful year on Wednesday afternoon, April 11th, with a Board luncheon, followed by a board and executive meeting. At 2 p. m. the regular business meeting was held at which time reports of officers, directors, chairmen of standing committees, club house, social, special, and ways and means committees were heard and approved.

Mrs. W. B. Rissler, educational chairman of departments of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs, gave a compiled report of 35 chairmen who through the year had worked to develop cooperation in their special fields, following the club's objectives, which are, first, to advance the interest in and to promote the culture of musical art; second, to aid in the promotion of worthy philanthropic and educational work. A satisfactory gain in the number of radio opera listeners was reported to Mrs. Rissler by Mrs. J. M. Hinman, chairman of this department.

The club's scrap book, compiled this year by Mrs. Nolan Erickson was on display and proved to be a well kept record of the year's activities.

The report of Mrs. Fred M. Ross, program chairman, was especially outstanding. Mrs. Ross gave account of the programs given during the year, four of which were artist programs, and the others furnished by the members of the club headed by member chairmen.

Mrs. Roy Petty, who has served for 14 years as chairman of the telephone committee, and her group were recognized for their services. Mrs. Harold Dean, substituting for Mrs. W. F. Keyser, gave a report for the House Committee. Mrs. M. L. McFarland reported on the clubhouse committee meetings in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Lee Montgomery.

Of especial interest were reports of Mrs. Harold Yunker, treasurer, with membership dues paid 100%, and the trustee of investments, Miss Marguerite O'Connell, who in giving her report also brought to the club a compilation of the minutes of the board meetings for many years, which she had made as a permanent record.

Mrs. Fred Handley, librarian, and her assistants were thanked for the work accomplished during the past two years in repairing and cataloging the music in the library.

Mrs. George Lovercamp acted as secretary, substituting for Mrs. Al Mines who is recuperating from an illness and was unable to be present.

The election conducted by Mrs. Gilbert Jones, parliamentarian, resulted in the following officers being elected for the coming year: 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Watts; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert W. Mason; librarian, Mrs. Miles H. Rhodes, and historian, Mrs. G. H. Abney.

The report of the convention of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs, which was held in St. Louis on April 3rd to 7th, was given by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, vice-president of the Helen G. Steele Music Club, life member of the Missouri Federation and a director on the State Board. Mrs. Yancey related some of the outstanding events of the convention in an interesting manner. The delegates were guests of the Musical Research Club at Scruggs Musical Hall on the first afternoon and were shown color pictures of the Passion Play at Oberammergau. Following a tea for the directors, and a dinner at the College Club as guests of the District, they attended in a body at the concert of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra at Kiel Auditorium. Mrs. Charles A. Pardee, president of the Illinois Federation, was the principal speaker at a dinner on Thursday evening.

An account of business meetings held at the convention and the outstanding musicians heard on programs were related, and Mrs. Yancey also made mention of the Choral Forum on Thursday afternoon. The board members and delegates attended the National Folk Festival at Keil Auditorium, which was participated in by about 2,000 people. The luncheon, while breakfast, and banquet were all well attended. Mrs. Yancey said. The State Board meeting will be held in Sedalia in October, and the convention next spring will be held in Jefferson City. Mrs. Yancey reported that the scrapbook of the Helen G. Steele Music Club was shown with those of other clubs at the convention and was much admired.

Mrs. A. B. Potts, chairman of Junior Music Festival, an event sponsored by the Missouri Federation, assisted the state chairman, Mrs. H. R. Wintrop of Kansas City, in conducting the contest held on Saturday at the convention and proudly sent in her report of the winners from Sedalia. In piano, Linda Bunn, Vicky Hunnell, Marilyn Goldman and Marilyn Green, pupils of Miss Mabel De Witt, and Lorene D. Sutherland, pupil of Mrs. J. W. Watts, won superior ratings. In voice, Jeanne Briscoe, a pupil of Mrs. Percy Metcalf won superior. Pins won by the contestants at the Sedalia contest were awarded at that time. Mrs. C. D. Demand and Miss Mabel DeWitt, who attended the contest with pupils, gave interesting highlights of their day with the Juniors.

Some Want a Good 5-Cent Psychiatrist

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, April 13 — (AP) — Some people feel that what this country needs is a good five-cent psychiatrist.

My conviction is, however, that what it needs most is a way to enable its citizens to get eight to nine hours of sleep every night. Then it wouldn't need half so many psychiatrists.

Right now a lot of people who seek the psychiatric couch aren't really so mentally upset as they are sleepy. They aren't looking for someone to tell their troubles to so much as they are looking for a place to lie down and rest.

The only two places left in America where a citizen can catch a nap in the daytime to make up for the sleep he should have gotten the night before are barber chairs and psychiatric couches.

And the bills a man gets in either are enough to give Rip Van Winkle insomnia.

Medical science agrees that the average red-blooded American go-getter requires eight to nine hours of sleep a night if he really wants to get up and get going. But how can this be done in modern civilization?

Act Like Children

The trouble is that adults are acting more and more like children. They want to stay up beyond their bedtime. Why? It only makes them cross and cranky and frustrated — like children who have missed a nap. What good does it do to stay up late? Whoever said anything interesting or clever after midnight? If he did it won't be lost to the world for lack of ears. He'll say it again the next morning. Nobody ever said a clever thing just once. He says it again and again. That's how clichés are born.

Home used to be the place where people slept. Now they go to each others' homes to stay awake. Television was hailed as an answer. But it hasn't turned out that way. If you own a television set, your neighbor comes over to watch it — and remains until the milkman clinks a bottle down outside your door. If you don't own a television set and your neighbor does, you go over to his house — and hand him his morning paper as you leave.

Many communities used to have 9 o'clock curfews to get children off the streets and into their homes. They probably still have. And they are a fine idea.

The idea ought to be adopted for grownups — a national curfew to get adults out of each others' homes and into their own. It could easily be done with the air raid warning systems now being set up.

It might be good to have four signals. The first siren, sounded at 9 p. m., would call children and small dogs indoors. The second, at 10 p. m., would warn long-winded grownup guests to start their last long-winded story of the evening. The third, at 11 p. m., would sound the final "well-just-one-more-for-the-road" alarm. And promptly at midnight the final siren would send police cars screaming out to catch all late wayfarers and cart them off to the hoosegow.

I asked Frances what she thought of this idea.

"It might work with some people — but not your friends," she said. "They just wouldn't go home at all. They'd bunk down here and soon I'd be running a hotel instead of a home."

Winter Hangs-On In Weary Midwest

By The Associated Press

Spring made both coasts pleasant Saturday, but between the two there was a great area of wintry weather, including snow, cold, high winds and dust storms.

Snow fell Saturday over North Dakota, eastern Montana, parts of Wyoming and northern Minnesota.

Dust storms were reported in South Dakota and some spots in Nebraska. At Philip, S. D., the wind reached a velocity of 63 miles an hour, with gusts up to 78 m.p.h.

The cold air accompanying the snow was part of a large frigid air mass covering central Canada and moving steadily southward.

Temperatures were well below normal as far south as Kansas Saturday afternoon. Showers and a few snow flurries were reported in the northern Great Lakes region.

The snow was expected to move into the rest of Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska Saturday night or Sunday, with rain or snow in lighter amounts as far south as eastern Kansas.

the thinking of the Democratic administration, the foreign policies of which Magnuson has been supporting.

5. The Peiping Chinese Red radio said in a broadcast beamed at Korea that MacArthur's removal means victory for the Communists in Korea—a statement certain to be cited by the general's friends in Congress.

6. General Ridgway, arriving in Tokyo to take over from MacArthur, said that he would press for an early Japanese peace treaty and "work toward the completion of the masterly task already largely accomplished under consummate leadership and guidance of General MacArthur."

By Edwin B. Haakinson

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP)—Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, the biggest man physically in the Senate, is playing a major role in the angry dispute over President Truman's firing of General Douglas MacArthur.

Two events set him apart from most of his fellow Democrats in this crowded center of ambitious politicians:

1. A week ago—four days before the Truman order removing MacArthur—Kerr lashed out at the general as "MacArthur the Magnificent." Other congressmen held their breath as Kerr suggested that the general was "wearing out the patience of the rest of the team mighty thin."

2. When the angry indignation at MacArthur's dismissal finally erupted in furious debate on the Senate floor, Kerr stood up and slugged it out verbally for hours with irate Republicans.

On the surface it appeared that the king-size Democrat—he stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs more than 235 pounds—had been selected first to send up a trial balloon on MacArthur and then defend the firing.

Some of the things that President Truman outlined to the country in his nationwide broadcast after the ouster had been said before by Kerr.

But a question whether he had acted as the administration spokesman, Kerr told a reporter: "There was no consultation with the White House, nor the State Department."

Kerr said he first decided to criticize MacArthur because he feared what the general might do with an Oklahoma National Guard division.

The 45th Division from Oklahoma has been called into federal service and has left for occupation duty in Japan.

Kerr said he feared the Oklahoma unit would be split up by MacArthur and used for replacement in Korea, or even for direct attack on Red China.

After examining all of MacArthur's statements and letters, Kerr said he decided such strategy "might be suicidal."

(Congressional champions of MacArthur say he had no intention of launching American troops into a land war on the Chinese mainland.)

Normally the touchy job of attacking a figure as potent and controversial as MacArthur would go to Majority Leader McFarland (D-Ariz.), or Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Foreign Relations committee, or possibly Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services committee.

Eagle Minstrels In Many Appearances

There is a unique organization in Sedalia called the "Eagle Minstrels" composed of wives of employees of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. There were 10 in the original cast, and they put on their first performance on October 18, 1950. In keeping with the Halloween theme of that season of the year they wore false faces and outlandish costumes.

Costumes have been the stamp of individuality for this group, since each has one of a kind "creation," and must be seen to be believed.

Their reputation as performers has increased until they have become known throughout the Central Missouri region, and are much in demand. They have appeared before civic organizations, Parent Teacher groups, churches and lodges.

On April 7th, through the efforts of Dr. Guss O. Salley of Warsaw, Missouri, the group put on a two hour show at the Community building there for the joint benefit of the Methodist and Christian churches. They are receiving numerous out-of-town requests for programs and are now being booked into next year for future performances. To date, they have put on over thirty shows.

The mascot of the group is a 43 year old talking parrot from Central America, "Pollyanna Canova". She eats with a spoon, and insists on singing many of the songs with the cast. She can say many words, crow, bark like a dog, and cry like she'd had her heart broken.

Members of the group are: "Ophelia Turnip", "Topsy Waters", "Mammy Waters", "Assefidity Jones", "Lullabelle Odessa", "Magnolia Plushbottom", "Sweet Pea Rumpus", "Utisia Violene Fiddlestix", "Beulahbelle", and "Nellie Hoffingers". At times the group has been accompanied by various guest performers.

Old Time Plays Given On An Old Time Moored Showboat

By Nello Cassal

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—(P)—A heavy fog rolls over the Mississippi river levee. The mournful wail of a passing barge sounds in the night.

People hurry up the steep gangplank of an anchored boat as a woman screams and pleads with a mustached gent for mercy—just like in an old-time melodrama.

It is a melodrama, staged in the colorful setting which represents one of the last remnants of the Bowler hat and parasol days.

The scene is the creaky and raffish showboat Goldenrod, a once-ornate craft that traveled up and down the rivers years ago bringing entertainment to uncounted thousands.

Gay banners fluttered from her deck then and the stream gurgled by to the nostalgic throb of a callopie and the excited cry of "showboat 'round the bend".

Retired to anchor now, the Goldenrod still lights up the stage of history nightly in an atmosphere that prevailed at the turn of the century. The plays are old ones. There is stark tragedy. And comedy which is corny enough to come under the price support program.

But they are uproariously funny. This is an audience participation show. The customers hiss and boo and the players hiss and boo back. Anything can happen in the quick repartee.

Lines are changed to meet any given situation and often the customers engage in quick-witted quipping among themselves.

In a hammed-up version of "Hamlet," Hamlet has a Tennessee drawl. Questioned by a heckler, Hamlet announces that he got it "from drinking out of Dixie cups."

Given its cue, a responsive crowd will go on from there. Customer becomes actor. The crowd howls.

Join the Tumult

Sophisticated ladies in expensive furs and visiting businessmen join the tumult. The old boat groans and the loose floorboards battle under stomping feet.

In "Ten Nights in a Barroom," conflicting advice is thrown at the booze-soaked husband.

His wife waves for silence and observes "this is extremely serious: this child may die."

The child does die and her soul goes to heaven. Lou can see it go: a little girl's nightie fluttering upward off the death bed on a piece of wire.

The man responsible for all this is the ship's owner, Capt. John William (Billy) Menke. He has been in the business with the Goldenrod and other showboats for almost 50 years.

As bubbly as the river itself, he joins in the fun and "can't remember a time when we had to throw anybody out."

"We came here to stay two weeks," he recalls. "That was 14 years ago."

Menke was playing them straight back in 1930 and even the wharf rats shunned him. Then in Pittsburgh, his cast was humiliated by rude heckling. The cast heckled back. It caught on.

If that's the way they wanted it, Menke decided, he'd give it to them. He switched from moderns to gaslight stuff. The public

Legion Auxiliary Meets At Pilot Grove
The members of the auxiliary of the Legion Post 266 met at the Legion hall Wednesday evening, April 4 at Pilot Grove. The meeting was opened with a prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Ernest Walje.

Mrs. Roy Carver of Columbia was a guest. Refreshments were served by the Legion and auxiliary. Mrs. C. S. Shay will be the hostess to the auxiliary April 18.

Shoeless Joe Jackson was never a major league batting king even though he hit .401 in 1911. Ty Cobb batted .420 that year.

Next comes "The Drunkard." When the crowd starts thinning, Menke switches to something else. The boat is open the year around.

His best months, of course, are the summer months when tourists flock in to capture or recapture the gay glory of the showboat days. There are accommodations for 980.

Club Discusses Music Appreciation

The final meeting of the year for the Camp Branch PTA was held at the school April 6. The topic for discussion was music appreciation. The C. C. Hubbard high school chorus presented a musical program. Refreshments were served to the 110 persons present.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Jack Alfrey president; Mrs. Glenn Rhoads vice-president; Mrs. Russel Haight secretary; Mrs. Robert W. Rissler treasurer; Miss Betty Lozenbv song leader, and Mrs. Glenn Rhoads pianist.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Al Schreiner, 2700 West Broadway, observed their silver wedding anniversary Sunday, April 7, with open house at their home from 2 to 5 p. m.

A crocheted lace tablecloth made by Mrs. Schreiner was used on the dining room table which was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. On either side were burning white tapers. The buffet was decorated with a crystal bowl of white flowers and lighted white candles in two branch crystal candelabra.

Miss Wanda Young served the cake and Miss Shirley Young presided over the punch bowl. The guest book was in charge of Patty Jo Schreiner and Kenneth Schreiner received the guests at the door.

Mr. Schreiner's father, the Rev. H. M. Schreiner of Concordia, who officiated at the original ceremony 25 years ago, renewed wedding vows of Mr. and Mrs. Schreiner in a short marriage service.

Bob Schreiner, of St. Louis, nephew of Mr. Schreiner, sang, "The Lord Would Guide My Ways" with Patty Jo Schreiner as accompanist.

Mrs. Schreiner was in a gray crepe dress and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The home was decorated throughout with baskets and arrangements of flowers, the gifts of friends and other gifts included many items of silver.

A buffet supper was given that evening at the Schreiner home.

Guests at the supper were Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Schreiner of Concordia, parents of Mr. Schreiner, Mrs. Lena Gerken of Lincoln, mother of Mr. Schreiner, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reinwald, Sweet Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kreisel, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Steffens of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Leland Eckhoff and son, Larry and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Eckhoff of Cole Camp; Rev. and Mrs. Walter Strickert and sons, Freddy and Riche, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, Wanda and Shirley, B. This particular year, we have a little longer time between selecting spring and summer clothes. You can also enjoy your spring suits and coats a little longer, and the wise woman will take this opportunity to check on her figure to decide if she would like to lose a few pounds before going into the summer season. If so, she will start taking a few exercises now. Maybe you aren't happy with your present hairstyle—so take advantage of the extra time and have it re-styled. Usually a new season rushes upon us before we realize it and we find ourselves confused. It you haven't checked your last year's wardrobe by now, do it at once and start planning your new purchases. Hot weather will be less trying if you have planned for it by having proper outfits for your particular activities. A well-planned wardrobe will make you the envy of all your friends and label you that well-groomed person you want to be.

Maybe you have a hall too tiny for furniture, so redeem it from mediocrity with this use of a mirror. Place the mirror or mirrored glass flat against the wall. Then have the "Handy Man" make a shallow circular shelf as wide as the mirror and about 4" deep. Use a moulding of some kind to finish the edges. Line this with zinc tin and be sure to have it watertight.

This shelf can be painted a harmonizing color and attached to the wall right under the mirror. In the winter the box can be filled with peat moss and blooming bulbs or ivy. In summer change the picture by filling the container with water and arranging fresh flowers before the mirror.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monroe are entertaining at dinner for Mrs. Wight at the Heard Memorial clubhouse Monday evening.

Tuesday noon Mrs. Phillip M. McLaughlin and Mrs. I. H. Reed will be hostesses at a small luncheon at the Country club, with Mrs. Wight as honoree.

Friday noon Mrs. John G. Crawford and Mrs. T. W. Cloney II took Mrs. Stafford and her guest, Mrs. Wight to the Scenic room at Flower's for lunch.

Mrs. John M. Sneed has asked a few friends of Mrs. Wight to a luncheon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse Wednesday noon.

Golden Wedding April 22

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Moon will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, April 22, with open house in the afternoon at their home seven miles south of Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon were married on April 21, 1901, and are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. James Morton, 318 West Broadway and Mrs. John Wicken of Versailles and two sons, John Alfred Moon of Columbia, S. C., and Walker Moon of Fortuna.

Sorority Has Installation

The Xi Omega Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Stacy, 706 South Kentucky at which time the new officers were installed by Mrs. Cecil Dump. The officers are: Mrs. Bessie Woodward, president; Mrs. Irwin Lehmer, vice-president; Mrs. John Stacy, recording secretary; Mrs. Bob Findland, corresponding secretary and Miss Jerry Teufel, treasurer.

Following the installation a business meeting was held at which future program plans were discussed.

During the evening the film of the Christmas parade was shown by Sgt. Stacy.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the Xi Omega will be held at the home of Mrs. Clinton Muller on April 26.

Joseph Buso, 312 East Harvey at noon.

Mrs. Reveles is employed at the Archias Seed store and Pfc. Reveles expects to be sent to Europe next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence Young, who were married Saturday, March 31 at the St. John's Catholic church in Pilot Grove. The bride was formerly Miss Dorothy Kempf and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kempf of Pilot Grove. Mr. Young is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young of Clifton City.

Dunkin-Russell Marriage

Under an archway of white leaf wrought-iron entwined with smilax Miss Delta Mae Dunkin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Dunkin, 117 East Broadway was married to Frank Moreland Russell, Radioman Seaman 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Russell, 602 East 11th April 1 at 7 p. m. The double-ring ceremony was read at the Broadway Presbyterian church by the pastor the Rev. D. Warren Neal before members of the immediate families and intimate friends of the couple. Seven branch candelabra holding burning tapers flanked the archway.

The bride who was accompanied to the altar by her father wore a navy blue crepe street-length dress trimmed in white with a sweetheart neckline. In the back of her hair was a half crown of white carnations caught with blue netting and her bridal bouquet of white gladioli was tied with white satin ribbon intermingled with blue netting. Her accessories were of navy.

Miss Marvalee Harbit was maid of honor and was attired in a street-length dress of gray trimmed in navy, with navy accessories. Her bouquet of pink gladioli was mixed with blue netting.

Radioman Russell was attended by the bride's brother Willard J. Dunkin, Jr.

Preceding the ceremony L. Christian Moore at the organ played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, "Because," by Guy D'Hardelot, "Together," by Lew Brown and Roy Henderson and "Always" by Irving Berlin. During the services he played "Beautiful Dreamer," Lohengrin's Bridal March and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were also used.

Both Mrs. Dunkin and Mrs. Russell mothers of the bride and bridesroom wore navy blue and had corsages of white carnations.

A luncheon was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents and close friends. Centering the lace-covered table was a three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated with a miniature bride and bridesroom over which was an arch of orange blossoms and leaves. Spaced over the cake were silver beads and leaves and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. G. W. Anderson served the cake and Miss Dorothy Jensen presided at the punch bowl. Following the luncheon and reception the couple left for a two-week trip through southern Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma. For traveling Mrs. Russell wore a red corsage with her navy ensemble.

Mrs. Oscar Emanuel of Norfolk,

Va., grandmother of the bride was present for the services.

Mrs. Russell was salutatorian for the 1948 graduating class of Smith-Cotton high school. She is now medical records librarian at the John H. Bothwell Memorial hospital.

Radioman Russell was graduated from Smith-Cotton high school in the class of 1948. He enlisted in the U. S. Navy in November, 1948. Recently he returned from the Korean area after serving there since July 6, 1950 aboard the destroyer USS Wiltzie. He will return to San Diego April 22 and his ship will engage in coastal sea duty for a few months.

Birthday Party For Little Girl

Cheryl Ann Clark, daughter of Master-Sergeant Dilbert Clark and Mrs. Clark, will be three years old Monday, and her mother will have a birthday party for her at their home, 2222 South Missouri.

There will be games and with the refreshments a birthday cake.

Guests invited are: Georgine Curtis, Deborah Williams, Ronaldine Curtis, Billy Lee Evans, Krissie and Linda Hancock, Harolaine Franklin, Janie Higgins, Harry Lee and Dale Allan Blatterman, Billy Weymeyer, Dilbert Gate Clark, Terry Clark, the honoree's little brother.

Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. Cecil Curtis, who lives at the same address, will assist in entertaining. Cheryl Ann's father is in Korea and has been since last August.

Hurst-Fischer Wedding

Miss Joan Hurst, daughter of Mrs. Aileen Hurst of Marshfield, became the bride of Mr. Lester Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fischer of Lincoln at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon April 1 at the Methodist church in Monett. The Rev. Forrest Standard, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in an aqua two-piece linen dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of carnations.

Miss Georgianna Pettigrew of Elkland, the bride's only attendant, wore a linen dress of pink shade with navy blue accessories. She wore a corsage of carnations.

Mr. Robert Rambow of Lincoln was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony open house was held for relatives and friends. Miss Georgianna Pettigrew was in charge of the guest book. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth. A

What to Do When The Lights Go Out

BY MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Just when you're snug in your easy chair, all settled down with the evening paper, always seems to be the time the lights pick to go out.

Even if you're in the middle of a whodunit instead of the paper, there's nothing to scare you, although we have heard of wives who rush out of the house with their hands over their ears the minute their husbands start tinkering with electricity.

Sparks won't fly and you won't be shocked out of your shoes if you treat electricity with respect. Since the lights are still out, however, let's get started. We'll assume the whole house didn't go dark, but get a flashlight anyway. Check the lamps and appliances in the rooms that did go dark, looking for faulty wiring or loose connections that would have caused a short circuit, and disconnect the one that did the damage.

Then go to the main fuse box. Stand on a dry board or dry rubber mat before you open it. You should be able to tell which fuse or fuses blew out by markings inside the box showing what lights and outlets the various fuses control.

If they aren't marked, however, you'll have to look closely through the transparent "window" of each fuse to see which one is burned out.

Replace with a 15-ampere fuse for ordinary household or lighting circuits. And never stick a penny or other metal under a blown fuse because you forgot to keep a spare one on hand. Experts have been preaching about this as long as anybody can remember, but a lot of houses still burn down because of that penny foolishness. If you don't have an extra fuse, go sit in another room and read.

Frayed cords, worn ends or damaged plugs probably cause most of the short circuits around the house. One way to avoid them is to keep people from yanking them out of the base receptacle by pulling on the cord.

To replace the standard outlet plug, cut off the frayed end of the cord and then pass it through the cap. The proper lengths of wire to unbraid and bare are shown in the diagram.

Use the "Underwriters Knot."

STAND REPLACES CASTLE—Workers construct a reviewing stand for a Moscow-style May Day parade in E. Berlin on site formerly occupied by famous Hohenzollern Castle.

clockwise, making sure all strands are caught firmly under the screw-head as you tighten it. Then replace the fiber protecting disc.

When you're attaching an appliance plug to an ironing cord, run the cord through the coiled spring protector and attach each wire to a terminal clip. Use tape or strong thread to keep the outer insulation from fraying. Then replace the clips and springs into one-half of the plug, fit the sides together, and fasten with screws or clamps.

Overloading the circuit blows fuses, too. A little simple arithmetic will help you if you're trying to run too many lights or appliances (it's printed on the nameplate). If the total wattage on any ordinary household circuit exceeds 1500, shift some of the load to another circuit right now.

Q—How can I patch small holes in linoleum?—F. B.

A—If the holes are small enough so the job won't look unsightly, fill them with a mixture of finely grated cork with liquid glue. When the patch is thoroughly dry, cover with clear varnish.

Bad Work Troubles Romania

VIENNA—(AP)—East European Communism recognizes the need for competition in production. It does it by stimulating "Socialist contests" between workers to see who can produce most and win a medal. But the system backfires. The Romanian newspaper "Scanteia" complained recently: "In the foundry section, Comrade Ion Bene's team was listed among the outstanding ones, but it had the highest percentage of rejects. During the first day of February, Comrade Dumitru Panait's Team had 20 per cent rejects from all parts cast, Carol Marc's team 16 per cent and Constantin Stoescu's 13.0 per cent."

Begonia Tubers Should Be Planted Now

"Cutaway" sketch shows proper potting of begonia tuber.

By Henry Free
Written for NEA Service

Gardeners who purchased tuberous begonia tubers at the spring flower shows, or from dealers, should not start them into growth at this time.

These colorful plants take 10 to 12 weeks from the time the tubers are planted until they reward you with their first blooms. So by planting now you will have a splendid display by the middle of June.

Tuberous begonias are a very satisfactory plant to raise and with reasonable care can be grown anywhere in this country. The size of the tuber does not indicate the size or quality of the flower. However, the larger tubers start easier and will produce a larger plant.

For the best results a sprout should appear before the tuber is planted. Tubers showing sprouts should be planted in pots or flats while those still dormant should be placed in a flat or moist sphagnum or peat moss, just barely covered, and kept in a warm room until sprouts appear.

The old gardener suggests a potting soil made up of one part old barnyard manure, three parts sandy loam and six parts compost or other humusy material.

For the best results the soil, both in the pot and in the garden, should be fairly loose, but with sufficient body and nutrients to allow the plant to develop.

A sandy soil may be made productive by adding a lot of humus while a clay soil requires both sand and humus to insure satisfactory plant development. A growing temperature of 70 to 75 is best.

Drainage is important, so, when planting the tubers be sure that there is a place of broken pot over the drainage hole in each pot, or that there are holes or spaces in the bottom of the flat. The pot is filled one-third full with the potting mixture and a tablespoon of a good organic fertilizer, preferably fishmeal, is sprinkled over this. Then cover the fertilizer with an inch of the potting mixture, place the sprouted tuber on this and just barely cover. After potting, water well but do not water again until the soil indicates dryness.

Do not overwater as rot often occurs when the tubers are kept too moist before they start growth. Plants should not be set out until the earth has become truly warm.

Quizzing the Gardener

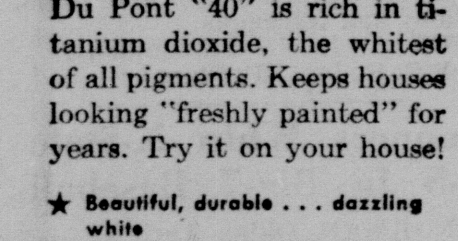

Q—Can African violets be grown from seed? L. H. K.

A—Yes, if you have the know-how. Seed, which is as fine as face powder, is available at a few seed houses. Under favorable conditions, bloom will appear in seven to 10 months after germination. Growers prefer to sow seed in late autumn.

Q—Nothing will grow in my copper "planter's plate." The holder is not large enough for a pot, and the leaves of plants put directly in the copper holder turn brown and wilt. How can this be prevented? D. T.

A—The average "planter's plate" is much too shallow for successful culture of house plants. Also there is no chance for drainage, so the soil becomes waterlogged. Overwatering, not the copper plate, is the reason why the leaves turn brown and wither. A soil mixture of sand, loam and vermiculite plus careful watering and the use of shallow rooting plants might prove satisfactory.

Japan's Treasures Too Expensive

TOKYO—(AP)—A move by the Japanese government to purchase national treasures and so relieve their private owners of the burden of maintaining them has fallen through. The treasures are too expensive. Culture-loving Japan has a system of preserving places, objects and the like for posterity by declaring them "national treasures." The owners are made responsible for them and cannot sell, pawn or alter them.

But some owners protested against the economic burden that accompanied the honor of owning such a treasure. So the government created a culture property safeguarding committee and appropriated $60,000 for purchases. Immediately, 130 owners of treasures applied. Their evaluations totaled $325,000. National treasures vary from immense tracts of land to a tiny teacup.

The committee has announced it will accept no further offers. It noted it was not questioning the worth of articles submitted—but that they were just too expensive.

Abandoned Shells Kill 1,400 Italian Children Annually

ROME—(AP)—Almost six years after the end of World War II, buried and abandoned shells, hand grenades and land mines are killing approximately 1,400 Italian children annually. The tragic deaths are recorded almost daily in Italy's press. Recently, a series of unrelated disasters took 24 lives, including 16 children, within a week. In one of the tragedies, four brothers, ranging in age from eight to 15, died in the explosion of a bomb they had unearthed in the countryside near Naples.

The succession of children's deaths has brought a wave of editorial protest in Italian newspapers and demands that the government step up its accident prevention program. As a result, a special government agency, has launched an educational program through Italian schools to warn children against the danger of buried explosives.

President Truman To Throw Out First Ball Baseball Fans Await Opening Of Big League Play Monday

By Gayle Talbot
NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Another big league baseball season opens on Monday, and millions of Americans will turn from their troubled reflections to greet with traditional warmth the return of their favorite sport.

Draft Takes Many Players
The peacetime draft already has cut heavily into the ranks of the younger stars and is certain to bring an increasing toll as the leaders are confident they will play through to another world series in October, barring a major conflict.

Overflow crowds which have witnessed scores of exhibition games through the south and west indicate that interest in the coming year is at a high pitch nationally. The minor leagues, it is generally agreed, are in for a hard time this year, but not the majors.

Truman To Throw First Ball
President Truman, observing custom, is scheduled to throw out the first ball for the American League's solo opener at Washington between the world champion New York Yankees and the Capital's Senators.

The National League, for the first time, also is staging a special pre-opening attraction between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds, at Cincinnati. The remaining 12 clubs in the two leagues will not swing into action until Tuesday.

National League's 75th Year
As the campaigns begin — the 75th for the National League, the 50th for the American — Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler still is in office after a rough winter. Whether he will continue to rule the game through the season appears to be anybody's guess.

Chandler, finally and formally, was rejected by the owners at a special meeting in March, but his contract runs until May next year. Some baseball men feel he will resign when the owners rule upon his successor, but Happy has not said so in as many words. The owners seem to be in no hurry.

Yankees Are Big Question
The big question, of course, is whether Manager Casey Stengel's Yankees can win their third straight championship, their fourth within five years. In the past two world series the glamor team from the Bronx has lost only one game, and its four-straight shelling of the Philadelphia Phillies last fall was a real crusher for the National League.

But there is, in this observer's opinion, real reason to suspect that the reign of the Bombers is nearing a lapse and that either the Cleveland Indians or the Boston Red Sox will be sitting on the American League when the flag drops next autumn. Probably Cleveland.

Injuries Have Hurt Yanks
The Yanks, for one thing, have been suffering too many aches and pains during their triumphal tour of the west. One of their top pitchers, Allie Reynolds, is having serious arm trouble, the heart of the club, will play on Monday with a side which gives him stabbing pains when he swings at bat. Ed (Whitey) Ford, the sensational freshman southpaw, has been lost to the draft.

On the credit side, the champions have come up with one of those once-in-a-lifetime rookies in Mickey Mantle. You may safely believe everything you have read about the boy they are grooming to take Joe DiMaggio's place in the outfield.

He might supply the impetus to Casey Stengel's team to its third straight Cleveland's hitting improved. Cleveland has added terrific hitting power in a pair of Negro rookies from San Diego, Harry Simpson and Orestes Minoso, and has a sharp new manager in Al Lopez, the former catcher at Boston, who has strengthened its pitching staff by the acquisition of Ray Scarborough and Willie Wright from the Chicago White Sox and has been bolstered by the addition of Lou Boudreau.

The surprise package of the exhibition season, incidentally, has been the White Sox. Under Paul Richards, another smart pilot new to the majors the hose have been getting a torrid pace. They might easily leap from sixth place into the first division. They may have the game's best shortstop in Chico Carrasquel.

Giants Are Looking Sharp
In the National League, most of the spring talk has been about Leo Durocher's New York Giants. They were the hottest club in their league toward the close of last season, and they appear to be taking up right where they left off. It looks like a three-cornered fight between them, the Phillies and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"We've got the pitching and the hitting and a great spirit," Leo said the other day. "My boys have been together a year now and they think they are a great ball club. I'd give anything in the world to win this one for (President) Horace Stoneham."

The Phillies have about the same team which beat out Brooklyn on the final day of the '50 campaign, with perhaps some additional infield strength. The only important difference is that Curt Simmons, the Whiz Kids' great young southpaw, will not be around to help them at all, having been drafted late last season.

Dodgers 'Still Loaded'
Brooklyn has a new manager, peppery Charlie Dressen, and some baseball men think Charlie will get a little more out of the Dodgers than old Burt Shotton did last year. They still are laden with talent. Their centerfielder, Duke Snider, could become one of the game's outstanding stars this year.

The only other new manager in the National League is Marty Marion, who succeeded Eddie Dyer at the St. Louis helm. Marty expects to play a little shortstop when the weather warms up. Jimmie Dykes has taken over for storied Connie Mack the stew-

Local Teams Seek Break In Weather

The Junior Legion, Teen-Age and the Sedalia Chiefs will hold practice sessions today. The Moose Club has called off practice until next Sunday due to a heavy diamond. Weather conditions will also govern the practice of the Chiefs and Blues today.

Cliff Barr, manager of the Junior Legion squad announced the 16 team would work-out on the West diamond at Liberty Park. Manager Barr said any boy who reaches his 17th birthday after January 1st or younger boys are eligible to play. Practice time is 2:30.

Jack Slocum, manager of the Teen-Age Blues, announced the Housel Park diamond is in fair condition and practice will be held by his players at 1:00 p. m. today.

Slocum is urging all young players to report early and get warmed up for the practice session. Positions have not been announced and all players have an equal chance to make the squad.

Manager Joe Imhauser of the Chiefs has called practice for 3:00 p. m. today at Liberty Park. Imhauser is confident the diamond will be in good enough condition for a workout, providing of course, the weather man keeps the sun shining.

Imhauser has not decided finally on any of the positions and urges all Ban Johnson age boys to report for practice.

Sonic Upsets Uncle Miltie In Derby Trial

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Sonic, a rambling black colt from the vast King Ranch in Texas, set the upstart Uncle Miltie in his place by winning the $27,500 experimental handicap No. 2 today before a yelling crowd of 40,351.

It was an amazing upset. J. J. Colando's Uncle Miltie had soundly thrashed other top three-year-olds last Monday to make himself the Derby favorite. But Uncle Miltie finished eighth in the field of ten.

Sonic, given a superb ride by young jockey Jack Colaneri, of Troy, N. Y., won by half a length over Hal Price Headley's Jumbo. Jumbo nosed out the Phantom Farm's Nullify in a tight photo for the place. Nullify took the show by a length before Jack Amiel's Countess. Eight of the starters were derby candidates.

Sonic, which had won his only other 1951 start, was clocked in 1:44 2/5 for the mile and one sixteenth. He returned $28.80, $11.50 and $7.00 across the board.

Shilkett Takes 2 Skeet Titles In All-Ozarks

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 14.—(P)—Charles E. Shilkett of Joplin, on All-American skeet shooter, today won two championships as competition got under way in the fourth annual All-Ozark Open tournament.

A gusty wind handicapped the shooters. The tournament ends tomorrow. Shilkett had 46x50 to win the sub-small gauge and 97x100 to take the 20 gauge. The 28 range title went to A. C. Richardson of Oswego, Kas., with 47x50.

Twelve-year-old Tommy Warden of St. Louis won Class B honors in the 28 gauge after a 50-22 tie with Lee Darden of Springfield.

Other winners today included Herb Buyn, Clinton, Mo., Class AA in sub-small; Leo Harrison, Hannibal, Class AA in 28 gauge; John Garrison, Joplin, Class AA in 20 gauge and John Warden, St. Louis, Class B in 20 gauge.

Sedalian's To Enter
State Bowling Meet
JEFFERSON CITY, April 14.—(P)—The first installment of a four-part state bowling tournament started here today. Succeeding chapters in the tournament will be held each week-end with the final session May 6.

All told, there will be 284 singles entries, 141 doubles and 70 teams in the tournament. Bowlers from St. Louis, Springfield, Neosho, Columbia, Joplin, Jackson, Rolla, Sedalia and Jefferson City are expected to compete.

Exhibition Baseball

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Ill. (P)—The first exhibition game of the season was played here today between the Chicago (A) and the St. Louis (A) teams. The Chicago team, managed by Bill Haller, defeated the St. Louis team, managed by Bill Haller, 10-1.

BROOKLYN, New York.
New York (A) 10-1 Brooklyn (A). The Brooklyn team, managed by Bill Haller, defeated the New York team, managed by Bill Haller, 10-1.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 14.
Cincinnati (N) 10-1 Indianapolis (A). The Cincinnati team, managed by Bill Haller, defeated the Indianapolis team, managed by Bill Haller, 10-1.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 14.
Louisville (A) 10-1 Louisville (A). The Louisville team, managed by Bill Haller, defeated the Louisville team, managed by Bill Haller, 10-1.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton
BUSINESSMEN in Sedalia are confused. They are confused because of the weather and solicitations of the baseball clubs in Sedalia—they are not too sure if it is spring because of the soliciting of funds for the baseball clubs or still winter because of the snow.

The customary procedure of these local baseball teams is to solicit ads for their programs using the money to sponsor the teams. The legitimate teams should be given the proper support and managers of these clubs who have already been called upon by several businessmen offering their help. However, solicitations have also been made, and the teams as a whole are very grateful for the financial help given according to reports reaching this desk.

Baseball for a good number of years has been a poor paying proposition as far as finances coming through the gate. It has taken the reverse means of obtaining enough funds to see these teams pull through the season. One Sedalian endeavored to sponsor a semi-pro team, and it was an exceptionally good ball club, but the expense proved very high for advertising of his business.

To keep the ball club on the field in Sedalia it takes a unified support of all to make it a success. Teams are hoping that baseball fans will take an interest this season and give them support in attendance.

REMEMBER back a few years—well back in the 30's when Vincent "Pete" Igo and "Buck" Igo played football at Smith-Cotton high school. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis V. Igo of Beaman.

Now another Igo is coming up to take on the gridiron sport. But — its going to be a few years before he will be in high school football. He already has plans on his college football career and it isn't Missouri—it's down in Norman, Oklahoma with the Sooners where papa Vincent played a few years back, in 1935.

Yes, sir, it is none other than little Mike Igo who has won favor of Bud Wilkinson the O. U. coach. Sometime ago a Sooner scout visited "Pete" and Mrs. Igo at their home, 6336 Walroad, in Kansas City and saw a picture of Mike on the radio and took it back to O. U. with him.

In the March issue of "The Sooner Magazine" was the picture of Mike and "tabbed" a future Sooner. Already the youngster has taken to the gridiron tactics, and he is king bee around the neighborhood with the kids his size. He lets it be known he plans on playing football, and he handles himself well for his age and size. During football season he himself practices and picking up information on how the game is played. Papa "Pete" also gives him pointers from time to time.

APARENTLY it sounds like going back in the "good 'ole days" calling to attention to "Pete" and "Buck" and their football career, now bringing up another old favorite athlete of Smith-Cotton high school, in Jerome "Shokey" Needy. Needy, who has been assistant coach in basketball to Coach Bruce Drake, has been called back into the service of his country. Needy a Captain in the Army Air Forces was recently recalled and is now stationed at Brooks Field, Texas.

Blues Play At Louisville American Association Opens 50th Campaign This Tuesday

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 14.—(P)—The American Association opens its 50th season in organized baseball next Tuesday, and President Bruce Dudley said he anticipates "One of our best years."

"You know we're celebrating our golden anniversary with the same clubs we had at the start," Dudley said. "How many other leagues can match that record?"

Dudley said he saw seven of the eight clubs during the spring training activities, missing out on Milwaukee. The Brewers trained in Texas, with the others in Florida. They all look to be well balanced and with strong major league connections, Dudley said.

The four opening games Tuesday will be played at Toledo, Columbus, Indianapolis and Louisville. The second round openers will be played April 30 at Milwaukee, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Better crowds Expected
Reports from the various club officials say they are expecting bigger crowds than for last year's openers, if given a good break in the weather.

Last year's opening round games drew 48,821 paid admissions at Columbus, Kansas City, Toledo and Milwaukee. The second round openers ran into extremely bad weather and attracted only 24,613 fans at Louisville, Indianapolis, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Dudley said he plans to remain here to see Louisville and Kansas City play their opener. It will be the first time he has seen Louisville open the season since he left the job of Colonel president to head the association.

On the second round openers: Dudley plans to go to Minneapolis to see the Millers and Columbus Redbirds. From there, he will complete his tour of the circuit.

Tuesday's opening games, with probable pitchers, expected crowd, umpire assignments and starting time.

Milwaukee (Corin and Burris) at Indianapolis (Riddle and McCall and Turner); Pat Padden, Jim O'Connor and Bob Stewart; 10,000; game starts 8:15 P.M.

Cooper's mark also supposes the Kansas relays mark of 14 feet 5 inches held by Bill Carroll of Oklahoma.

To date 13 men have entered the decathlon competition.

Cooper vaulter 14-feet-9 1/4 inches in a dual meet against Col. orado at Boulder last Saturday. That eclipsed the world indoor record of a dirt runway—14 feet-6 1/4 inches—set by Earle Meadows of University of Southern California.

Cooper's mark also supposes the Kansas relays mark of 14 feet 5 inches held by Bill Carroll of Oklahoma.

Banquet Given For Athletes At Hubbard Hi

The first annual banquet to be given by the Athletic Department of C. C. Hubbard high school, was held in the school auditorium Friday night after which a social session was enjoyed by both athletes, their parents and special guests.

Coach Vernon Akins, acted as master of ceremonies, and presented the Coveted "H" to twenty-five C. C. Hubbard pupils who have participated in athletics during the 1950-51 school year.

Letters Are Presented
Those who received letters were: for basketball and football: Samuel Johnson, Hommie Fields, Carl Whitney, Floyd Payne and Paul Fitzpatrick.

Football: John Irving, William Banty, Charles Alexander, Herbert Jackson, Tommie Thomas, Billy Shobe, Billy Hogan, James Carter and William Everard.

Boys basketball: Bobby Thomas, Alvin J. Jones, Alvin Jones, Jr., Quintin Gray and Everett Payne.

Girls basketball: Lolita Carter, Barbara Parks, Susie Allen, Joann Nelson, Celesta Byrd, Paulina Robinson and Barbara President.

Professor J. B. Hylick gave the principal talk of the evening in which he stressed to the students to conduct themselves always in a manner which cannot bring unfavorable criticism on Hubbard high school. He brought out the new activity of being the hostess was something new in the school roster and hoped that it would be carried on from year to year from now on.

Encourages Students
He encouraged the students to always invite their parents to the school functions so the parents could see for themselves the school programs in action. Prof. Hylick also impressed on the students that it was their responsibility to keep their parents informed on school activities and to create within them a fine spirit toward the school.

"Speaking for the community," he said in closing, "I thank the student body for the fine contribution it made in sports and wish them more success in the future."

Special Guests
Special guests at the affair were Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Price Alexander, Mrs. Helen Bohannon, and Mrs. Vernon Akins, wife of Coach Akins. During the evening each guest gave a few remarks praising the new activity.

A large barbequed pig was in the center of the table. The pig was presented to Prof. Hylick by Mr. Green, undertaker at Marshall, who had the pig barbequed at Marshall land sent it with students from that place who took part in the evening program. Other athletes from out of town came from Warrensburg and Tipton.

Alice Bauer Takes
First Round Lead
In Women's Tourney
DALLAS, April 14.—(P)—Alice Bauer, diminutive blond from Midland, Tex., shot an even par 75 today to take the lead in the first 18-hole round of the $17,000, 144-hole women's Cross Country Weatherane golf tournament.

Little Miss Bauer, who is only 5-foot-2 and weighs 105 pounds, was the only player in a field of 44 able to match par on the windy, dusty, 6,100-yard Lakewood Country club course.

Tying for second place at 77 were Betty Jameson of San Antonio and Patty Berg of Minneapolis. A stroke back was Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga.

All four of the leaders are professionals. Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., the year's leading money winner and defending champion in the Weatherane, took a 63. This put her in 12th place.

Marlene Bauer, sister of Alice, who led through the first nine holes with a 37, became ill on number 12 hole and finished with a 44 on the back nine for an 81. Miss Bauer has been suffering from a viral infection.

The second 18 holes will be played tomorrow. This is the first leg of the Weatherane which moved to Pebble Beach, Calif., for the second 36 holes, then to Indianapolis for the third, and to New York for the fourth. There is $2,000 prize money in each 36 holes, with $5,000 grand prize for the professional winning the 144 hole grind.

Germany Schulz Dies Ten Days After Big Honor

DETROIT, April 14.—(P)—Germany A. Schulz died today, just ten days after the 1904-08 University of Michigan center was named the Associated Press All-Time All-American football team.

The 67-year-old former "iron man" of football had claimed he was the game's first roving defensive center and the first to make a spiral pass to the backfield.

Schulz, a 244-pound, six-foot-two giant under coach Fielding (Hurry Up) Yost, died at Henry Ford hospital. He underwent an operation two months ago for a malignant ulcer of the stomach.

The nation's sports writers named Schulz, who was once asked by Yost to handle five Pennsylvania linemen in a game, to the AP's mythical all-time team April 5.

Schulz came to Michigan in 1904 after working in a Ft. Wayne, Ind., steel mill.

Despite the objection of Coach Yost, Schulz began pulling out of his post in the line and serving as a roving center, or linebacker. Yost finally approved this revolutionary move, now a common practice.

Arkansas Shut-Out By Oklahoma Aggies

STILLWATER, Okla., April 14.—(P)—Two Oklahoma Aggies pitchers, Carl Pevehouse and Jim Schlesner, combined efforts today to give up only three hits and shut out Arkansas, 4-0, in an intercollegiate baseball game.

Schlesner relieved Pevehouse in the sixth inning when Arkansas had the bases loaded. He retired the side and hurled three more innings of hitless ball.

Joe Buck led the Aggies' hitting attack, scoring two runs with his double and two singles, Jim Rinehart, Arkansas' second baseman, got two of his team's three hits—one of them a double.

Arkansas' 0-000 000-3 3 4 Oklahoma AM 200 000 11x-4 8 2 J. Baley and Williams; Pevehouse, Schlesner (6) and DeWhirst.

Dynamos End Banner Season

McGuire Leads Way
To 18 Victories
In 30 Contests

The Missouri Pacific Dynamos basketball team has closed a successful season playing a schedule of 30 games, winning 18 while losing 12. The team was high scoring in aggregation with Foster McGuire leading the point-makers with a total of 607 for an average of slightly over 20 points per game.

McGuire, who is a master at the tip-in and hook shot, led his team throughout the season playing outstanding on offense and contributing speed and aggressiveness on the defense.

The Missouri Pacific team which started slowly came fast during the latter part of the season. Several of their games rolled in over 80 points.

Jack Lobaugh started as head coach, assisted by Charles Smith and Bill Dunlap. At mid-season Dunlap took over the head man's job with Charles Smith as his assistant.

Most Losses Were Close
The shop team lost all of their games except one by a margin of four points or less. The one bad defeat was by 12 points.

Aside from the free scoring McGuire, who was selected on all of the tournament all-star teams in which the shop team participated, the team was built around Cleo No man, burly guard with a good long shot, Ted Zink, excellent floor man, and Slick Burford, a left-handed shooter. These players were with the team all season.

At the latter part of the season another fine performer, Jones, was added to the roster. He is a guard who contributed some excellent play.

Young Players Close Season
Coach Dunlap in his closing games used a number of younger players to get a line on their ability for the coming year. Dunlap, who is a veteran of many years in semi-pro basketball, is planning to have a better club next year. If plans work out he would like to take his cagers on a cross-country jaunt planning a heavy schedule with some of the outstanding teams in the country.

It was the first time in 20 years that the Missouri Pacific Dynamos were in the field and outlook for a good team next year is bright.

Bosox, Bums Top Choices To Win Flags

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Brooklyn and the Boston Red Sox are picked to win the 1951 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll.

Both teams are solid choices among the 174 experts from big league cities who voted. Close races, however, were indicated.

The majority of the experts ignored last year's winners, the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies. It marked the first time both defending champions were thus slighted. However, no choice of the writers has won in either league since 1946 when the experts selected the St. Louis Cardinals to win the National League flag.

The power-plus Red Sox received the most first place votes, 87 to capture the American League pennant. The Dodgers polled 82 top ballots to win the National League flag.

The world champion New York Yankees were figured to give the Red Sox the most trouble. They were picked for second with 61 first place votes. The Cleveland Indians, only other club to get pennant votes, were named on 16 first place ballots.

Three National League clubs, besides the Dodgers, drew first place ballots. The New York Giants rated 47 to rank second behind the Brooklyn Dodgers. The defending champion Philadelphia Phils attracted 31 followers and the Boston Braves were liked by 14 scribes.

The basement bargains? Eighty-three writers liked the St. Louis Browns to finish in the American League cellar while 12 thought the Pittsburgh Pirates would annex that berth in the National.

Jayhawks Finish Strong To Edge Husker Trackmen
LINCOLN, April 24.—(P)—The University of Kansas put on a strong finish to take a 72-59 track victory from Nebraska before 8,000 windblown fans today.

Kansas clinched the meet with a first and second in the low relay, the last two events.

Vikings Drub Drury
MARSHALL, Mo., April 14.—(P)—The Missouri Valley Vikings drubbed Drury college's Panthers, 95 1/2 to 40 1/2, in a M. C. A. U. track and field dual here today.

The powerful Vikings were led in scoring by Homer Nelson with 20. Frank Allgood made 15 for Drury.

Time 9 p. m. Saturday.
Place: National Guard Armory.
It has been worth waiting for—a wrestling fan explained when he learned the matches of the Pettis County Post No. 16 are next Saturday night instead of last night. "I want to see the midgets," he said, "but too I want to see the fight between Ray Eckert and Roy Graham."

The main event is between Eckert a California, Mo., favorite, and "Cowboy" Graham, who hails from Dallas, Tex. These two heavyweights are ring rivals and although they have not clashed for approximately two years in the Sedalia ring, the "bad blood" still flows. Well, well fans recall the near riot these two caused when they fought it out in the wrestling ring in their last meeting.

Temper flared to such an extent the return match was called off and it was not until recently that promoter Pearl Christy was able to get the two to agree to meet again at Sedalia.

No doubt the fast action of the night will be provided by the four "little men" of the ring Little Beaver, a Canadian Indian, has been teamed up with Tiny Roe. They will meet Panchito the Bull, who has as his team mate Tom Thumb, a new comer of midgets to the Sedalia ring.

The midgets feature event on the card have been attracting some of the largest crowds of wrestling fans to see the sport in Sedalia. The "little men" have proven their ability to wrestling or following Texas rules. Little does it worry them as to what their opponents try to pull, anyone of these small gents is well capable of taking care of himself.

The matches will start at 9 p. m.

Rattle-Snake Hunters Meet

OKENE, Okla., April 14.—(P)—Okene became rattle-snake gulch today for the 12th time.

The occasion: The annual convention of the International Association of Rattle-Snake Hunters. And that means it's rattler-round-up-time in the nearby Gypsum hills, where some 5,000 folks will go tomorrow and search for the deadly diamond-backs.

But the association members will play tonight. They'll deck themselves out in their best Saturday night mood—and in their Sunday-go-to-meetin' best—and break bread and fried rattle-snake meat around a banquet table.

Okene Chamber of Commerce officials, who sponsor the unusual hunt, say almost two dozen states will be represented.

Some of them are professional snake hunters. The others are merely curious.

It's big business, this rattle-snake hunting. The folks who snare the rattlers—with forked sticks and similar but more scientific gadgets—sell their booty to the Jaycees for .50 a pound.

And that organization resells them to medical groups for the venom and the snakes, which bought the meat for those who consider rattler meat a true treat.

Two years ago, the hunters grabbed almost 5,000 pounds of rattlers. That was a record catch.

Staley Pitches Cards To Win Over Browns

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—(P)—Red Schoendienst doubled and homered today to give Gerald Staley and the St. Louis Cardinals a 3 to 2 decision over the St. Louis Browns in the first of their two-game city exhibition series.

After Solly Hemus singled, stole second and advanced to third on Staley's double, Schoendienst doubled him home in the third inning. Red's four-bagger came in the fifth—going onto the roof of the right field pavilion.

Catcher Joe Garagiola tripped and scored on a long fly in the fourth for the third Redbird tally. Catcher Les Moss batted in the two Browns' runs—one in the second and again in the seventh. Roy Severs scored from third in the second as Moss was thrown out at first. In the seventh Moss beat out an infield hit. Sievers again coming from third with the run.

It was the Cardinals' first triumph against their home town rivals this spring as they lost two games to the Browns at Houston, Tex., earlier this week.

Curators Still Plan To Put Medical School In Columbia

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—(P)—The revamped Board of Curators of the University of Missouri decided Friday to go ahead with plans to locate the proposed four-year medical school at Columbia.

The board made itself clear by adopting a motion, 5 to 3, to name a committee to draw up legislation calling for the construction of a state hospital at Columbia to serve the school.

Last November, the board of curators voted, 6 to 2, in favor of Columbia as the site of the medical school and at the same time reject a bid by Kansas City. Four new members have been named to the board recently.

No Motion To Reconsider Made

In the three hour session of the board behind closed doors, no formal motion to reconsider the decision favoring Columbia for the medical school was offered.

Dr. Glenn W. Hendren of Liberty, a holdover member of the board, appealed for reconsideration. He said new members were not familiar with the matter and that he felt they should visit Kansas City.

John H. Wolpers of Popular Bluff, president of the board, said no formal motion was offered and "on the basis of remarks made around the table the majority of the board did not think it was necessary to reconsider the question."

Voting for the state hospital at Columbia were Wolpers, Powell B. McHaney of St. Louis, James S. Bush of St. Louis, Frank Stonner, Chamois and W. P. Elmer of Salem. Stonner and Elmer are new members of the board.

Dr. Hendren, Lester E. Cox of Springfield and Stratton Shartel of Kansas City voted against the motion. Shartel is a new member.

The fourth new member, J. A. Dagg of Memphis, was ill and was not present at today's meeting.

Wolpers Named Chairman

Wolpers was named chairman of the three-member committee to draft legislation for the proposed hospital and report back to the board here April 26 for its study. Others named were McHaney and Elmer.

A report was issued by Dr. Hendren, Cox and Shartel in which they favored locating the medical school either at Kansas City or St. Louis.

The three pointed out they had voted for a four-year medical school but against locating it in Columbia.

"This minority group feels that it is acting in the best interests of all the people of the state when it so voted," their report said.

House Votes For Lowering Of Draft Age

Study Universal Training Will Come Up Later

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—The house voted late Friday to lower the minimum draft age from 19 to 18½ years, lengthen the required service from 21 to 26 months and arrange for a later study of universal military training.

It passed its modified draft-UMT bill by a vote of 372 to 44 and sent it back to the Senate for adjustment with the draft bill that chamber passed on a 79 to 5 vote or March 9.

The big differences are that the Senate put the minimum age at 13, fixed the term of a draftee's service at 24 months, and provided for a system of universal military training to go into effect after the need for a draft is deemed to be ended.

A joint Senate-House committee will now go to work to whip out a compromise that, with President's Truman's signature, will become the law.

Draft Extended to 1954

Both bills would extend the draft three years, to July 1, 1954.

The House bill provides that deferment of college students would be left largely to local draft boards, and that the boards would not be bound by the aptitude tests the administration is planning for hundreds of thousands of students this spring and summer.

During months of debate, in committees and on the floors of the Senate and House, the hottest question was that of lowering the draft age to take boys of 18 or 18½.

Many parents, individually and in groups, protested the taking of boys that young. The military high command argued that 18 year olds make good soldiers and that the world situation demands their service.

The biggest change the House made in the Senate bill was to drop original administration plans for Universal Military Training (UMT).

House Provides UMT Framework

In its place, the House provided only a framework for a UMT program. It said both the House and Senate would have to consider training plans submitted by a civilian commission and enact an entirely new law before UMT could go into effect.

Of the 44 House members who voted against the draft bill on final passage, 37 are Republicans and 7 Democrats.

One of the last pre-passage actions of the House was adoption of an amendment requiring that draft boards call all available men between the ages of 19 and 26 (the present draft age range) before drafting any youths under 19.

A 158 to 82 vote wrote in this amendment, by Rep. Teague (D-Tex.). The Senate has a similar provision.

Other Major provisions of the House bill:

No drafted man may be sent into a combat area until after he has been in service six months. None may be sent to land bases outside the United States during his first four months.

Physical and mental standards for inductions would be lowered in an effort to draft some of the 608,000 men now catalogued as 4-F. The new standards would be those that prevailed in January 1945.

The existing deferment of married men whose only dependents are their wives, is eliminated.

More liberal deferment for high school students is permitted, so that they may finish their four years. Educational deferment is left largely in the hands of local draft boards, but students attending high school couldn't be drafted until they became 20.

Club Hears Talk On Canning

The Shackelford Home Economics club held its regular meeting April 5 at the home of Mrs. Eva King. There were 14 members and 17 visitors present. Mrs. King received many nice gifts in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Maude Younger, president, opened the meeting by singing "Stars of a Summer's Night" and "Song of Peace." Mrs. Junior Nichols read the devotional and the Lord's prayer was repeated. Roll call was by "a foolish superstition." The club donated $2.50 to the Red Cross.

Miss Jeanette Palmer, H.D.A. and Miss Dorothy Ady, assisting H.D.A. were present. Miss Palmer talked on the multiflora rose.

home planning and canning and freezing of fruits and vegetables. Miss Ady showed arrangements of flowers.

"Hens Finished by Machine" was given by Mrs. Franklin Younger. The meeting closed by reading the club collect. A game was lead by Mrs. George Spry. The next meeting will be May 3 at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yager.

Visitors present were: Mrs. Jennie Aldridge, Miss Mabel Aldridge, Mrs. Mattie Howe, Mrs. Ed Neighbors, Mrs. Lacy Staples of Sedalia, Mrs. Clarence Shaw, Mrs. Harry Runge, Mrs. Carl Alexander of Hughesville, Mrs. Tom Rains, Miss Minnie and Catherine Scott, Mrs. James Latimer, Mrs. John Boles, Mrs. Ray Bennett of Nelson, Mrs. E. GIANT REFINERY UNITS like these at our Whiting, Indiana refinery are among the tools of our trade which help Standard Oil employees to earn good wages and enjoy steady work. Our tools are made possible by the investment of our many owners. Last year about two-thirds of our profits were retained in the business to help pay for new equipment and thus increased the book value of the owners' stock.

2/3 of our profits help pay for the new tools our employees use

THE BETTER the tools a man has on his job, the more he can produce—and the more he can earn. Each employee of Standard Oil and its subsidiary companies is backed by an average investment of $31,400 in tools and equipment.

There's an old question, "Which came first—the chicken or the egg?" In our case, modern tools and equipment help us make a profit, but we could not have them unless we made a profit. In recent years, about two-thirds of our profits—the money left after paying all expenses and taxes—have been plowed back into the business to help expand and renew the facilities that enable us to serve you.

The remaining one-third of the profits has gone in the form of dividend payments to those who then held shares of Standard Oil as a return on their investment. Last year's dividends had a value of $3.14 per share of stock.

Because they are good workers and are provided with good tools, our employees earn good wages and have the security of steady work.

Profits benefit our customers, too. Because of profits, new equipment increases the supply of products and improves their quality. That's the customer's "dividend."

Yes, profits give investors a fair return on their investment. They give employees good earnings, and the security of steady work. And they give you a dependable supply of products at prices so economical that gasoline, for example—compared with most of the things you buy—is an outstanding bargain.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

HIGH PRODUCTION MEANS good earnings for N. H. James of our Casper, Wyoming refinery and for 46,700 other Standard Oil employees. At our refineries one big reason for high production is our modern catalytic crackers, the largest of which can produce enough gasoline to keep 200,000 automobiles running.

HIGH PRODUCTION MEANS a fair return for Mrs. Alvah P. Clayton of St. Joseph, Missouri, one of the many owners of Standard Oil. No one person owns as much as 1% of our stock. Of the institutional owners, including many educational and charitable organizations, no one owns as much as 4%.

HIGH PRODUCTION MEANS lower prices and better quality for millions of Standard Oil customers like Myrtle Momen of Ft. Dodge, Iowa, a regular customer of Newell H. Fawkes. Gasoline, for example, now sells at about the same price, excluding taxes, as in 1925; on a performance basis it is worth 50% more.

You Can Even Choose It for Economy!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

It is true, of course, that when men and women move up to Cadillac, their motivating thought is not economy. Their hearts are set on owning the "Standard of the World."

But if they needed another impulse to move them to Cadillac, it could certainly be found in the car's remarkable record for practicality.

Even on the basis of its initial cost, a Cadillac represents a surprisingly sound automotive investment. Indeed, some half million American motorists are driving other makes of cars which actually cost them more than they would have had to invest if they had purchased new Cadillacs!

We deeply regret that we are unable to deliver new Cadillac cars without some delay. But the demand for the car is unprecedented—and much of the company's energies and materials are now being devoted to the needs of national security. Once the car is delivered into your hands, however, we know you'll agree that—patience never brought a richer reward.

Discuss Proposal For A Treaty

TOKYO, Sunday, April 15—(P)—Last-minute talks on the proposed Japanese peace treaty were scheduled for General MacArthur tonight on the eve of his departure for the United States.

Ambassador John Foster Dulles hurried his trip from Washington to seek what he called the "wise counsel" of the deposed occupation commander on a treaty for the country MacArthur has ruled nearly six years.

MacArthur and his party will leave Tokyo Monday morning and arrive in San Francisco Tuesday. The general's arrival in the U. S. was postponed to permit a 24-hour stopover in Honolulu.

Lt. Gen. Matthew J. Ridgway, who is taking over all of MacArthur's commands, flew here from the Korean battlefields last night and announced there would be "no change in basic policy."

Ridgway praised MacArthur's leadership and said he would press for an early conclusion of a peace treaty for Japan.

He assured the Japanese people there was "no division" among American leaders regarding a peace treaty.

Preparations for MacArthur's departure were announced in detail. It was apparent that the 71-year-old general, who came here in August, 1945 as a conqueror, would leave as hero.

Ten thousand Japanese police will be spaced from the city to Haneda airport, 12 miles away, to handle crowds to number in the hundreds of thousands.

There will be a brief ceremony at the American embassy, MacArthur's official residence.

At the airport, MacArthur will review an honor guard arrayed before his big airliner—newly renamed "Bataan," after his old C-54 transport plane. The name was changed from "SCAP"—initials of supreme commander, allied powers, the title stripped from MacArthur Wednesday.

Mrs. Bobbitt Be 101 On Monday

Mrs. Belle Bobbitt, who is believed to be the oldest living Pettis county resident, will be 101 years old on Monday.

Mrs. Bobbitt celebrated her 100th birthday a year ago at which time she received congratulatory messages from President Harry S. Truman, Governor Forrest Smith, U. S. Senator Harry Byrd and many other notables in public life as well as from a great number of relatives and friends.

This year Mrs. Bobbitt has been confined chiefly to her room at the farm on which she resides northwest of LaMonte in the Dunksburg vicinity.

There will be no general celebration of the birthday anniversary this year but well wishes will be forthcoming from many. Mrs. Bobbitt is a native of Virginia having been born in that state April 16, 1850. In 1859 she came to Missouri and resided for a time in Cooper county, and it was there she was married to Thomas Bobbitt who died in 1911. She has two living children, Lester Bobbitt, of Sweet Springs, Mo., and a daughter, Mrs. Cora Braginer, who is at the farm home, with her.

Assessed $25 Fine For Careless Driving

George Clay, Negro, 412 West Morgan, pleaded guilty in police court, Saturday morning to charges of careless driving and was fined $25.00 by Judge Jerry Trotter.

John Ilmberger Fifty Years In Blacksmithing Has Retired

It was April 15, 1901 that John Ilmberger started in the blacksmith business with his father at 217 East Main, exactly 50 years ago today. It was a cold day with rain, snow and sleet and just as it has been this mid-April and Mr. Ilmberger recalls that there was no more rain until the fall of that year.

Today, 50 years later he has sold his business and let his little great nephew, Kenny Berlin, turn the key over to the new owner, Leo Greene, Jr.

It was two years after he started in business that he leased the ground at 313 East Main and built a small frame building for his blacksmith shop. In 1911 he bought ground at 315 East Main and had Bill Housel build a shop of concrete blocks where he has since carried on his business.

By trade he was a blacksmith as was his father before him, Peter Ilmberger. The father learned the trade in Germany and continued working at it until his death in 1911, the year the new shop was built.

Shod Horses For Years

John Ilmberger shod horses for Sedalia and all neighboring community. He had such steady customers as Dorn-Cloney, Alquist bakery, Milton grocery, E. N. Harrison Transfer company, John Shafer Storage company and many other firms who operated extensive delivery service. When it was cold weather and the streets were slippery the shoes on the horses were sharpened so there would be less danger of the animal falling. On such a day it was not unusual to sharpen the horseshoes of 20 horses.

His shop was a busy place in those early days and there were many interesting experiences, but perhaps one of the things he likes best is the memory of the children who used to flock there to watch him, to talk to him and to have him mend their broken toys. They were his nieces and nephews and all of their friends and many grew to know the blacksmith shop as "Uncle John's." He loved to have them all but now and then there was a busy day when he just didn't want to take time to mend those toys and he would lead a large horse out in front. The horse wouldn't be in a very good humor because he had to move too fast and he would stomp his feet and the youngsters would scatter. But Uncle John always found time later to go by the homes, pick up the broken toys and fix them at his leisure.

Started In Drought Year
That first year, 50 years ago, was such a drought year that people didn't make much money, especially the farmers who had the horses, and they would pay for their work with eggs, butter, corn and potatoes. But Mr. Ilmberger didn't mind that, people always have to eat and he had plenty of good food.

About 1911, when he got his new building he started setting tires, the iron ones around the wagon wheels and charged 50c for each tire, but his main business was still shoeing horses.

As the horseshoe business declined John Ilmberger began to sharpen lawnmowers and has been doing that for about 35 years. He also made awning irons for Bryan-Paulus Awning company for about 40 years, too, and many of the awning irons he made are hanging for 50 miles or so around Sedalia.

A special coal was used in the blacksmith trade, it was known as the blacksmith coal to make the hot fire, but as time went on the coal became more and more expensive to buy as it was of such grade and texture that it was difficult to mine. Also, before the day of the electric blower for the blacksmith fire, the old fashioned bellows was used which was operated by hand. Any child who went to the blacksmith shop in the olden days was thrilled to get a chance to operate the bellows for the fire to heat the iron.

Never Had Accident

Looking back Mr. Ilmberger feels that he has very much to be thankful for. He has shod hundreds of horses and has never had an accident with them although some were difficult to handle, being high-spirited and powerful. The only sickness he has ever had was a three-week siege with an ulcerated throat.

Although he worked constantly with horses he did not ride them back and forth to work, instead he rode a bicycle.

Of late years it has been his custom to close his shop up for the winter and not reopen it until spring had started. Since his shop was on Main and his home on South Massachusetts his friends would hear him remark in about November, "Well, I suppose it is about time for me to go south for the winter."

Tools To His Home

And now he has sold the shop, has taken his lawn mower sharpening tools to his home at 1100 South Massachusetts where he plans to sharpen mowers in his spare time. The spare time is when he is not listening to the ball games on his new radio because he likes ball games better than anything, or when he goes fishing with his brother Dell or, though he doesn't show too much enthusiasm for the idea, when he isn't helping his wife, the former Rose Brill, work in her garden.

And so, after 50 years as a blacksmith, he locks the door of his shop and watches Kenny turn the key over to the new owner. "Uncle John, isn't 50 years a long time?" asked brown-eyed Kenny.

John Ilmberger smiled. "That all depends, Kenny," he said. "If you like what you do in those 50 years it's a short time, a very short time—but if you don't like what you do, it must be an awful long time."

"Did you like the 50 years you were here in your blacksmith shop?" asked the boy.

"I sure did, Kenny," he said, and there was a far away look in his eyes.

Escorted Tour at Capitol

Linda Wiesing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiesing, 1106 South Lamine and Kay Caraway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Caraway, 1916 West Third were taken on a specially escorted tour of the state capital in Jefferson City and the governor's mansion. They were notified by telegram Friday by Miss Mercedes Miles, secretary to Gov. Forrest L. Smith that the arrangements were made.

Allies Observe Rules In Air War In Korea

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — (P)— The air war in Korea is the first one in history ever fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules. But only one combatant is observing them—the Allies.

It is extremely annoying to the American airmen, although the Chinese airmen must like it just fine. For they can come and hit our planes where our planes live but our planes can't go and hit the enemy planes where they live.

This is perhaps the oddest situation in one of the oddest wars in history. It was created by the United Nations policy of "localizing" the Korean war to Korea itself—the land, the sky above it, the seas that border it.

That decision—one that General MacArthur disagrees with—forces Allied fliers to operate in a pretty tight aerial boxing ring. It is like a fight in which one opponent has a corner in which he is safe from being punched—and the other opponent has none.

Here is the way it operates:

In northwest Korea the Yalu river divides Manchuria and Korea. The bridge spanning it separates the Manchurian town of Antung from the North Korean town of Sinuiju. Across that bridge to Sinuiju the Chinese have marched scores of thousands of Red soldiers to fight against American troops in Korea. And from the Antung airbase scores of Chinese jet planes have risen to fly across the river and harry our aircraft and make occasional night hit-and-run bombing attacks on our bases in Korea.

Not Hit Back
We can bomb and strafe one end of the bridge and the town of Sinuiju. But the Chinese on the other end of the bridge can fire up flak at our planes. They can send up their own jets from the Antung field to attack our bombers. And our airmen are forbidden to go over and hit back.

I rode in a jet the day our B-29s first bombed Sinuiju last winter. It was a meticulous raid. Not a bomb fell on Manchurian soil. But great puffs of black flak, fired by Chinese anti-aircraft gunners from Manchurian soil, erupted in the skies. One burst hit an American bomber and crippled it, but it made its way home safely. No attempt was made by the escorting American fighter planes to dive and strafe the enemy ground guns—but the pilots yearned to.

The great Antung airbase stood out like a big, white objectionable sore on the brown landscape. It was only seven miles away. On that day no enemy planes rose from it to challenge us.

But this week the Chinese, emboldened by the belief their base is now safe from retaliation, did use the Antung field in daylight. Eighty enemy Mig 15 jets came up to challenge 115 American jets escorting 32 B29s bombing the Antung-Sinuiju bridge. But again the American planes had to break off pursuit at the Yalu river line.

Describing the situation, one jet flier told me before I left Korea: "It's like playing a baseball game where you can't throw out the other fellow at home plate." In recent weeks the Chinese have built up their airpower tremendously. The American air chief, Lieut. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, has warned it will be impossible to halt them entirely under present restrictions if they begin an intensive strafing campaign against American troops.

And that raises two big questions:

1. If they do undertake successful attacks on American ground forces how long can American airpower refrain from seeking out the enemy planes in their Manchurian nests and destroying them?

2. And if we do change our policy and extend the air war to the skies and soil of Manchuria to save our own soldiers' lives, will that shorten the Korean war—or is it exactly what the Red powers want, in order to spread the war?
